Life is a . . .

CELEBRATION

PIRATE

Volume 46

Pasco Comprehensive
High School
Dade City, Florida

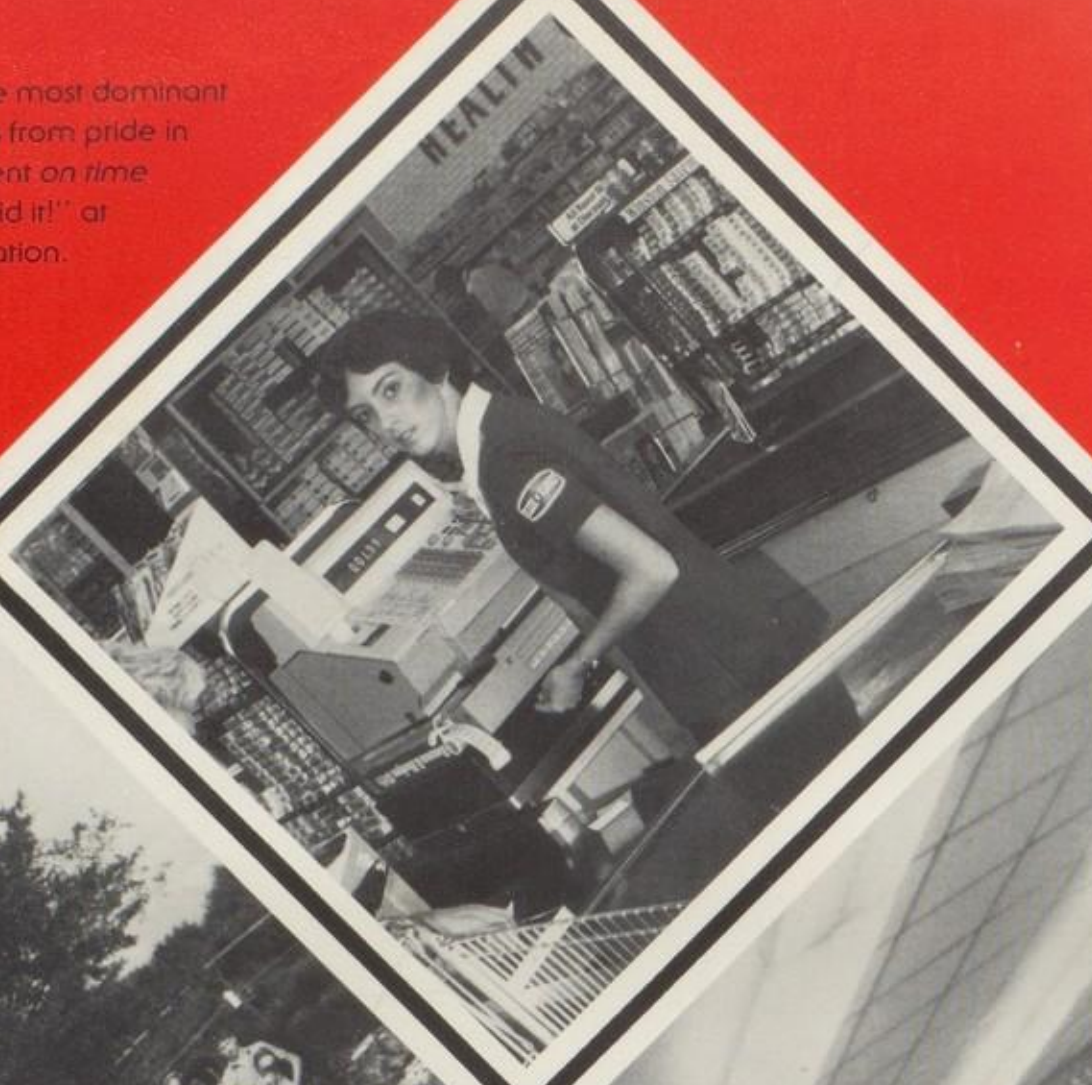
Life is a celebration, and every action and emotion of life add to this celebration. Successes, failures; happy times, sad times; each in its own way, enhances our lives and prepares us to develop the potential within.

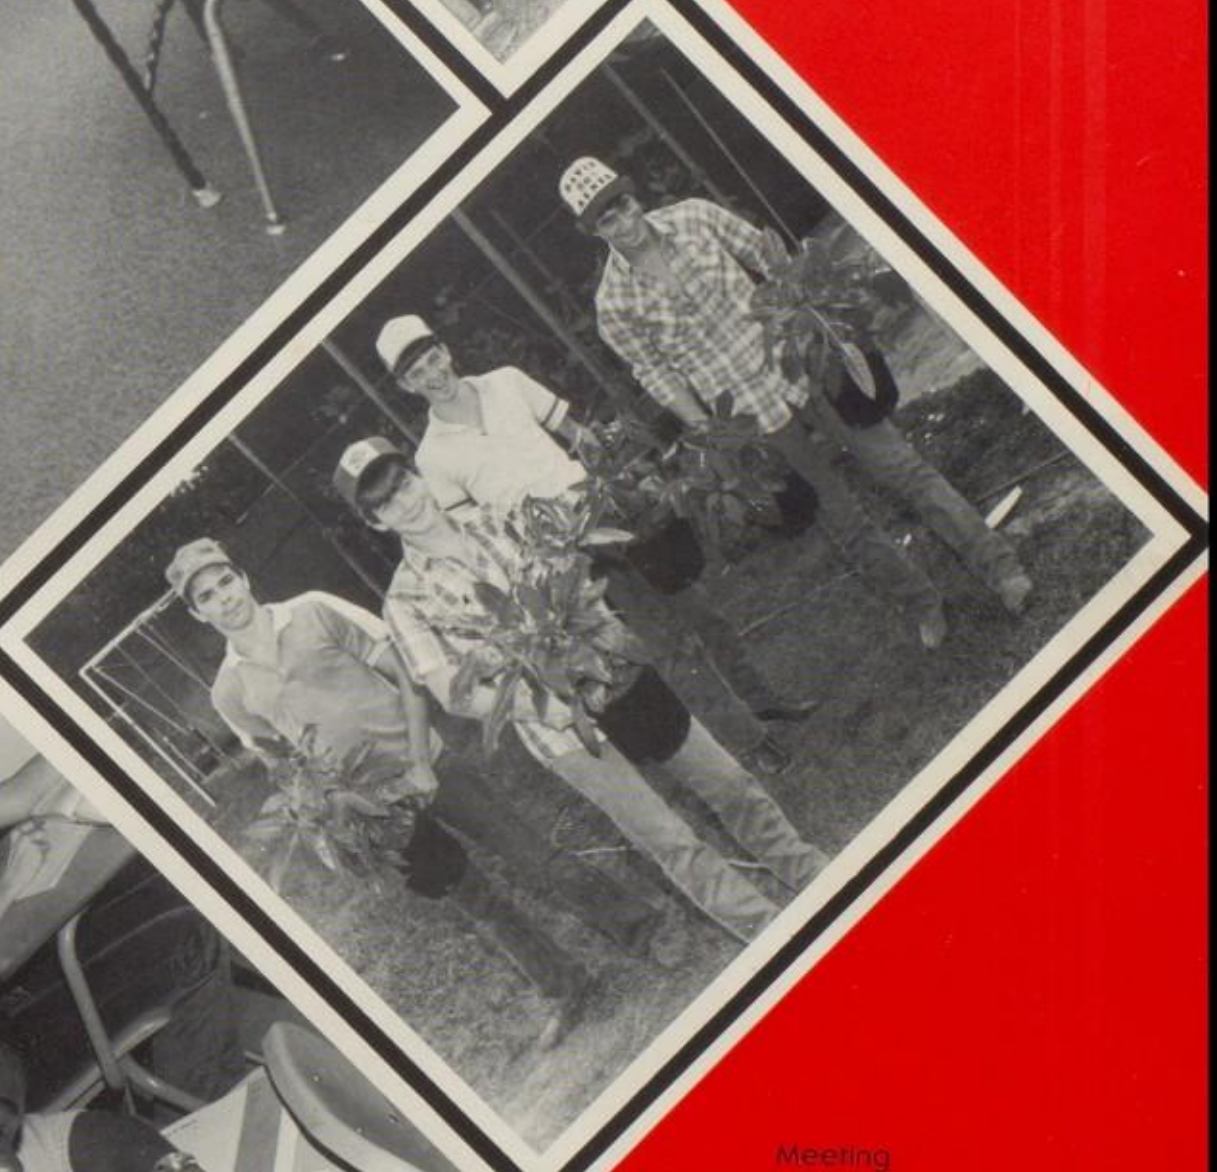
Because our high school years are unique, we should celebrate each day. We are ALIVE; we laugh with our friends; we meet challenges with enthusiasm. These are the years to share joy and love with others, to exult in being young . . . for life is a celebration!

Each year of high school is made memorable by the excitement of new beginnings. From our sophomore to our senior year, each day is a "fresh start," containing new experiences from which we can learn as we move toward maturity.

We celebrate new beginnings: "lost" sophomores on the first day of school; that first Pirate Pep Rally; our first car (be it "bomb" or "beautiful"); our first date; selecting class rings. Each event adds to the kaleidoscope of colorful memories that will always be a part of us.

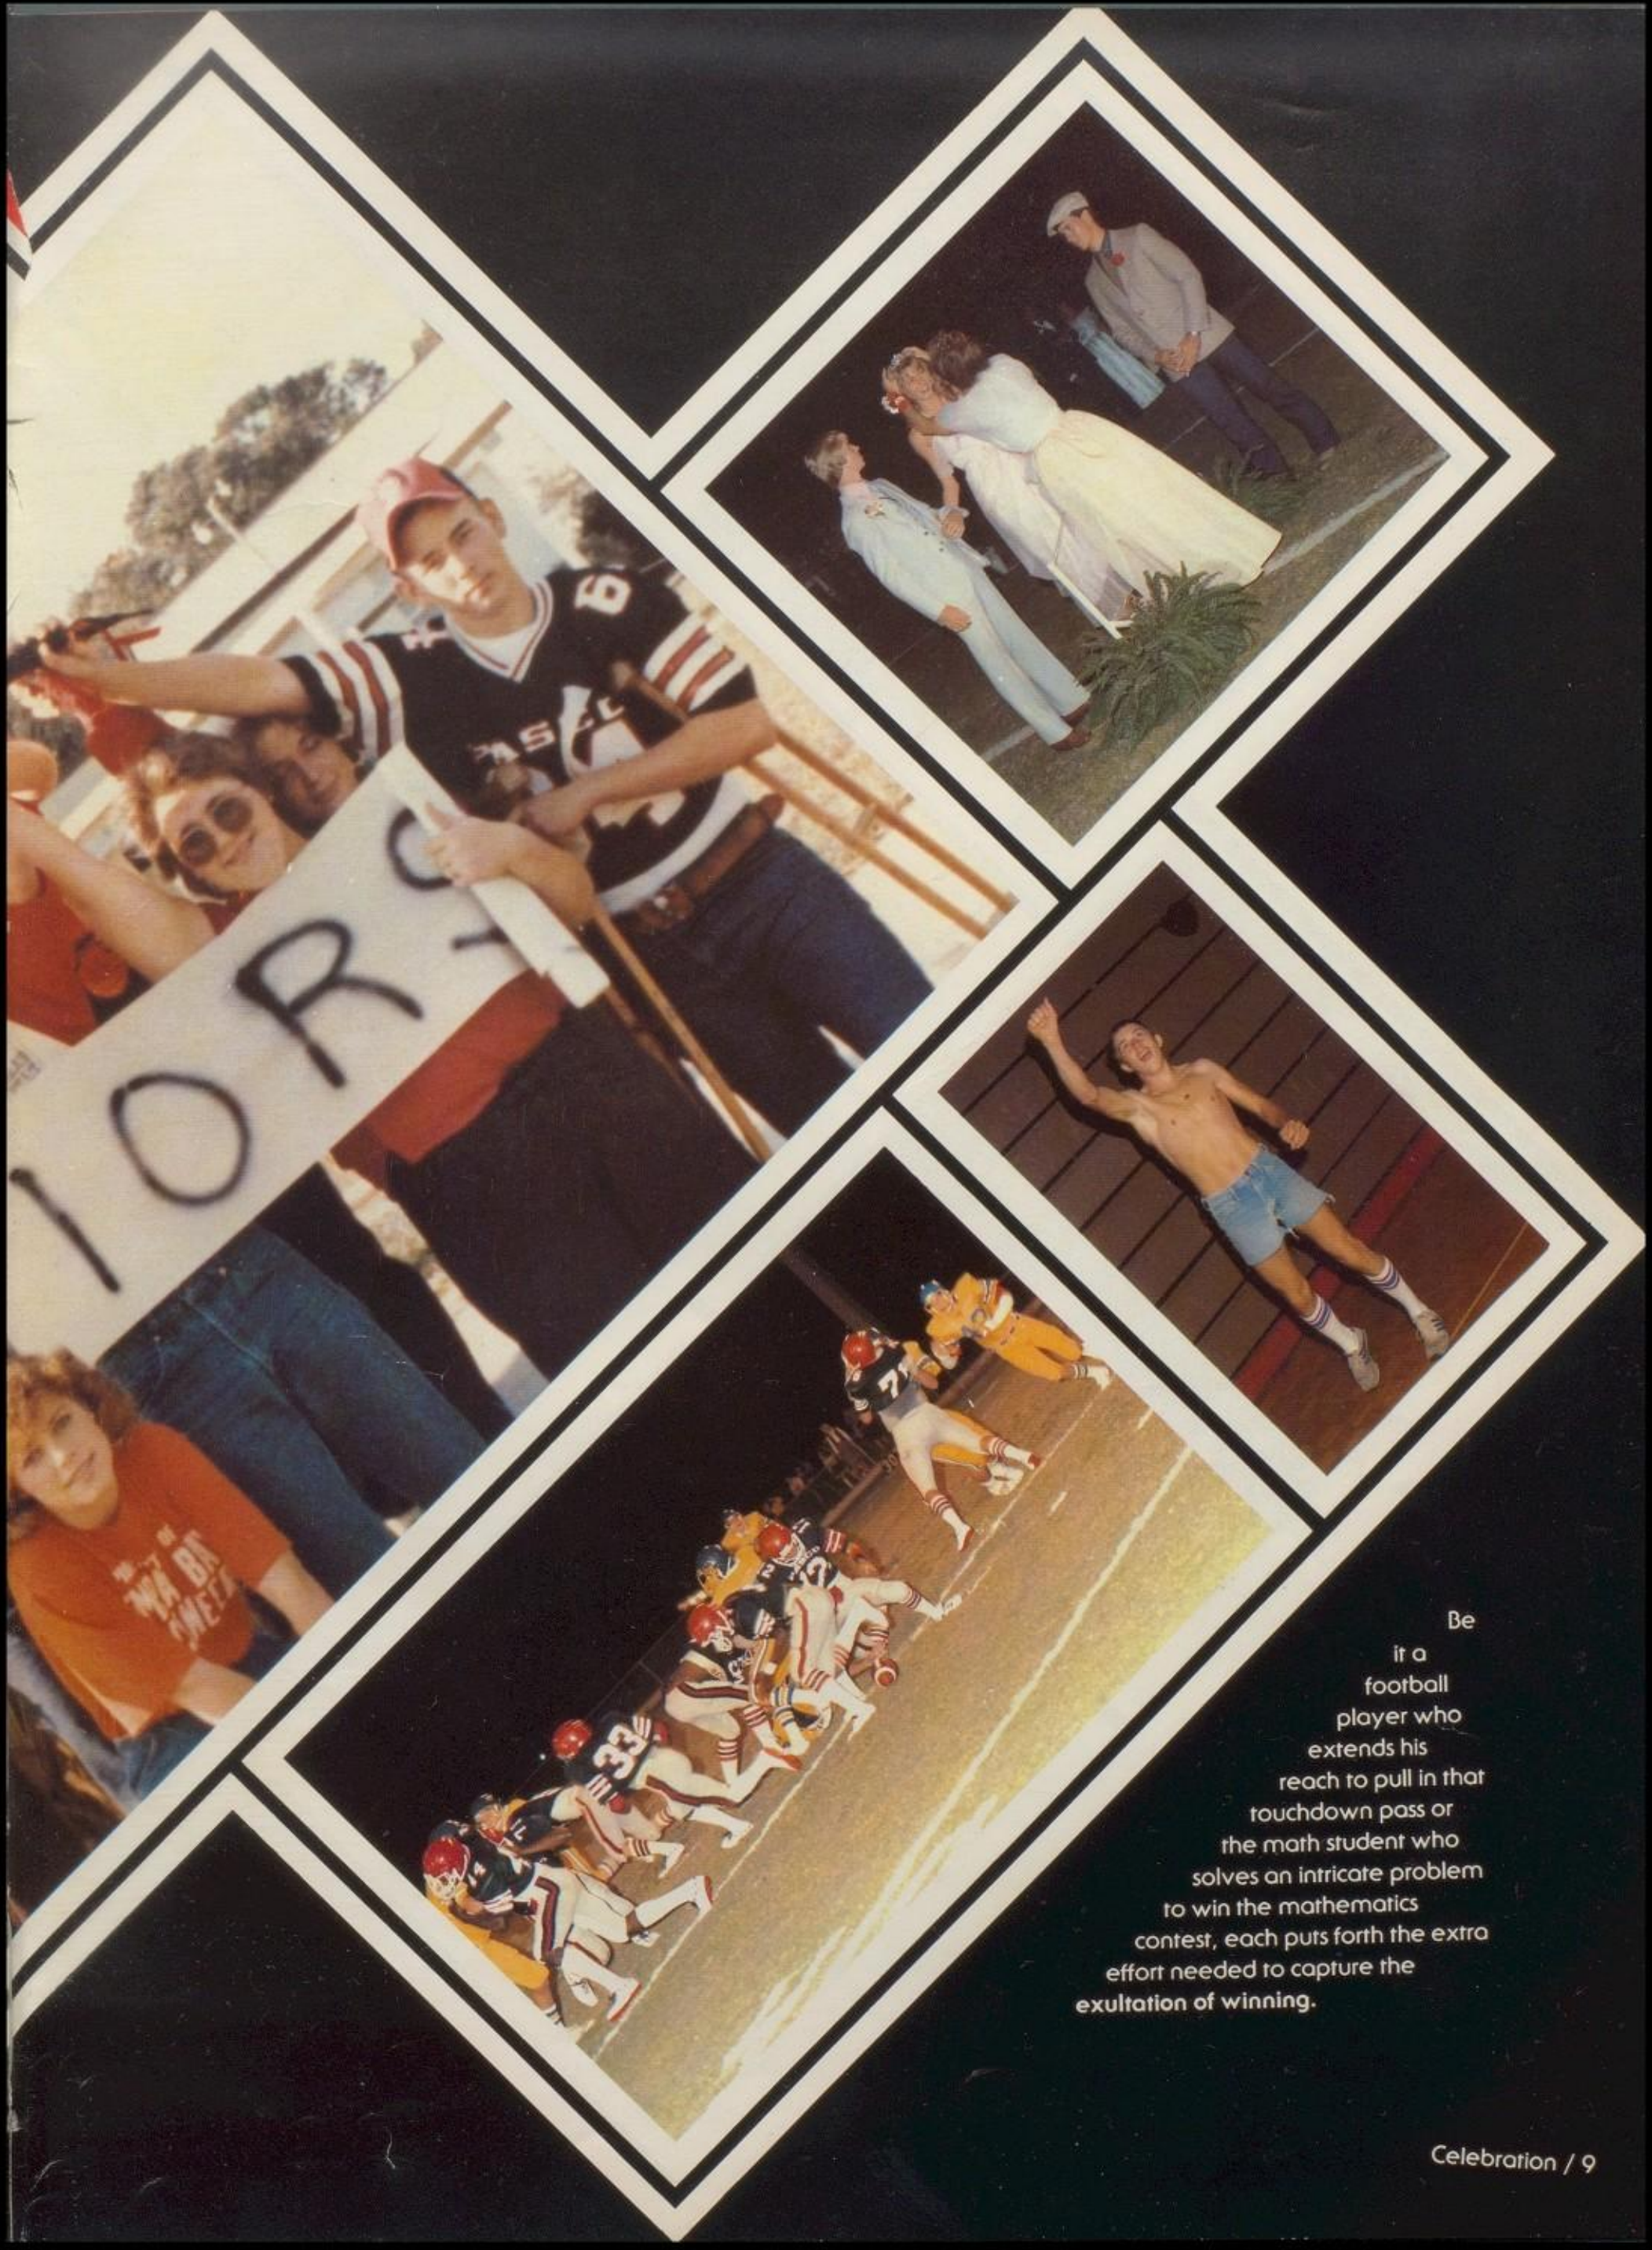
The joy of achieving is one of the most dominant emotions of high school. It ranges from pride in completing a weekly typing assignment on time to the tremendous feeling of "I did it!" at graduation.





Meeting goals and establishing new ones are ways of celebrating the joy of being "me"! You experience a special pride that is found in no other aspect of life as you assume the responsibility of seeing projects through to completion.

Winning and the emotions that accompany it are some of the most sought after feelings of high school. All who compete hope to bring glory to themselves, their teams, and their school. It is not only athletes who seek to experience the elation of winning, but also the fans who cheer them on to victory.



Be it a football player who extends his reach to pull in that touchdown pass or the math student who solves an intricate problem to win the mathematics contest, each puts forth the extra effort needed to capture the exultation of winning.

Friends and family are a vital part of our lives
Their presence often makes the ordinary *extra*ordinary and filled with excitement. There is a special bond which allows us to share our hopes and our fears.

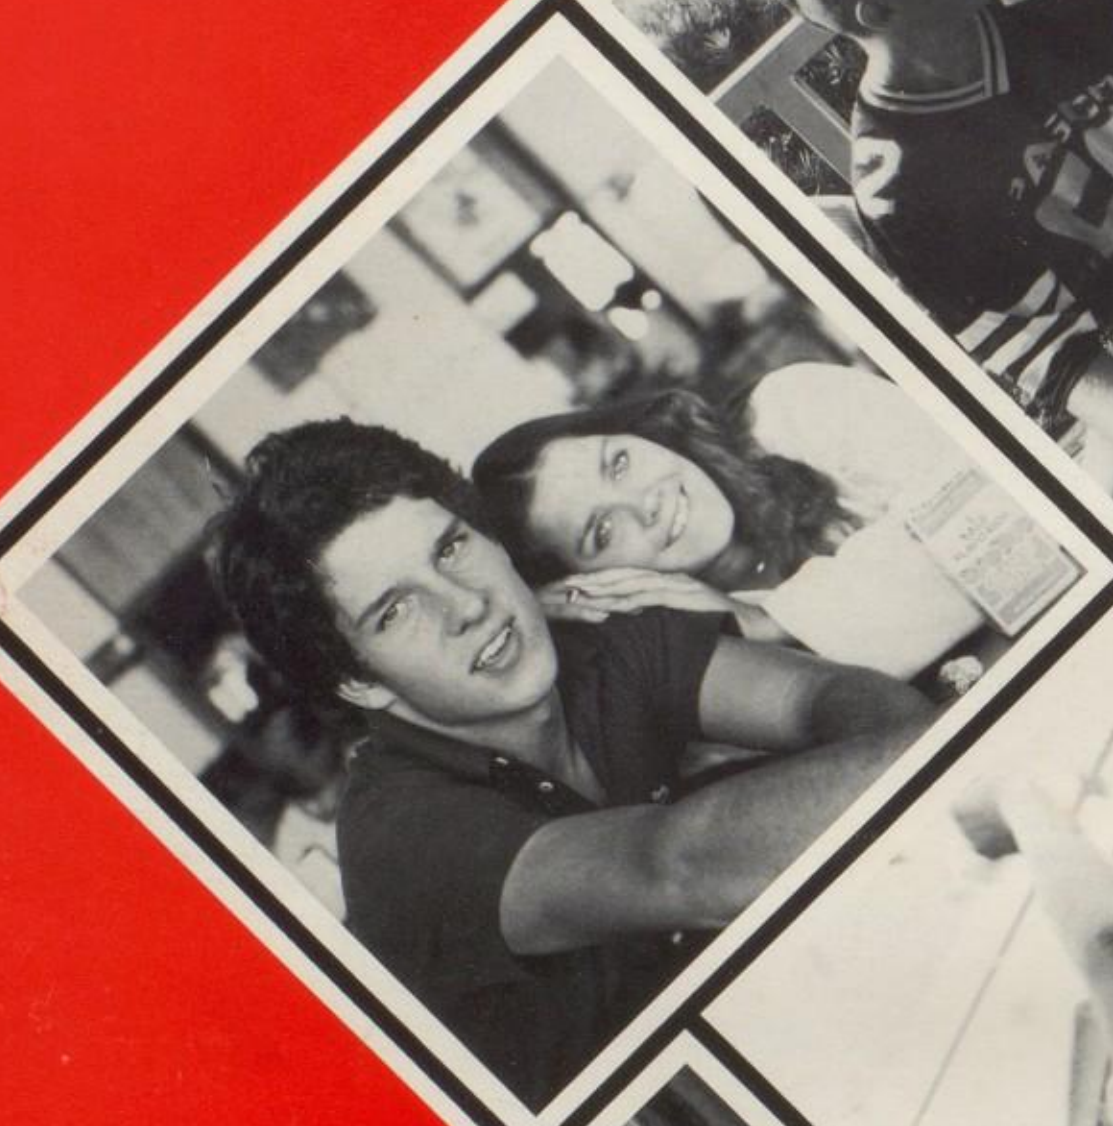
Friends always understand and provide the love and support needed to make our impossible dreams come true. They have a quality that heals our hurts, often creating smiles from tears. With them we experience the "new" and relive the memories. Only with friends and family can we share our personal celebration of life.

The festivity of special occasions is a memory-maker. The thrill of homecoming, the excitement of a party, the warmth of Christmas — these events add variety to the normal course of our lives.

As each activity approaches, energy permeates the air, filling each of us with expectancy and enthusiasm. These festive occasions are the essence of the celebration of life.

Report cards, old papers, folders, and perhaps a pirated textbook are the physical reminders of our days at PCHS. But, in the final analysis, it's the memories that count most.



The nostalgia of remembrances is both a future and present reality! What we do now can be recaptured then. Let us remember always that life is a celebration — today.

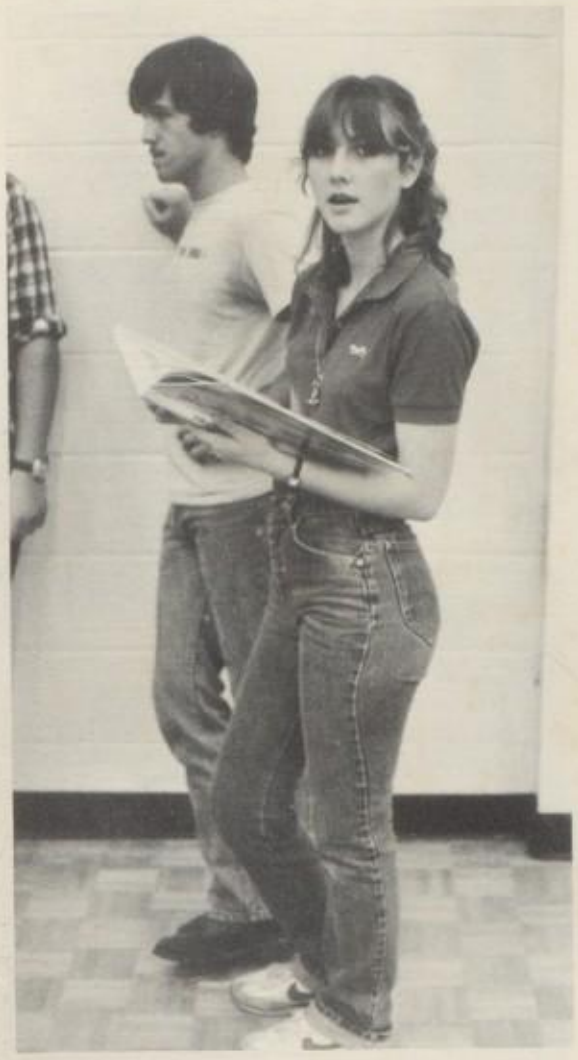
People



Wouldn't it be terrible if someone threw a party and no one came? The friends we make in high school not only attend our celebrations, but they give us reason to celebrate!

Who are these friends? — the Seniors who are ending one phase of their lives and are rapidly moving to another; the Juniors who are struggling through probably the most difficult and demanding year of their school lives; the Sophomores who are dealing with the trials and tribulations of "learning the ropes."

I, A SENIOR OF PCHS, BEING OF UNSOUND

My height to Miss Ellis and the challenge to any FFA member to try out for judging teams. (Richard Adams)
My good times to sis, Jackie, and many more good times to Trish, Judy and The Gang. (Desiree Agnello)
To Rosalinda, my love, and to Harriet and Sylvia, my car. (Fidencio Alexander)
To my sister Mickey, I hand down my Lynx, and to Harriet, my abilities to do things right. (Sylvia Alexander)
To you, my oldtime lock because it will remind you of BoBo the King! (Jeff Allen)
All my love to Barbara Burk, and my ability to draw social security while in high school to Coach Cimador. (Ken Allison)
My seat in the square and my auto mechanics clothes to Tommy Hill. (Scott Allison)
To the "elite" of PCHS, a poker and a copy of "Canterbury Tales," to Dasha Weiskopf, a carving knife and subscription to "The Home Surgeon." (Chris Arnade)
All my "crazy days" to everyone. (Dannie Arthur)
All of my earthly possessions to anybody wishing tremendous headaches. (James J. Baker)
My ability to grade papers (namely those ★"!# cards) to Ms. Pedrey's next student aide and all my love to Steve Randall. (Cynthia Barthle)
My white shoe polish to my brother, Matthew, and my sometimes bad temper to whoever gets Drum Major. (Diana Barthle)
All the crazy fun I had in high school to my brother, Stephen, and my sister, Allison. (Kathy Beaumont)
All over-due Will Durant books to future Humanities students, and a razor blade to Mr. Johnson. (Richard Bennett)
My truck and all of my Waylon Jennings tapes to my sister, the Jock. (Michael Blackmore)
To my sisters the ability to pick up guys, and to Sylvia my good looks. (Harriet Blair)
The hope that everyone at PCHS will, with best friends, make memories that will last a lifetime. Thanks Tim, K.W. and C.K. (Kimberly Shawn Boltin)
All the wild times to Kathy (remember Orlando!); the rest of my life to Mark W. (Martha Ann Brinson)
To my brother, Benny, all my love; to my best friends Yvonne and Vet J. all the luck in the world to remain friends. (Sheila Bryant)
All my love to Darryl G. and all mine, Lori, and Kerri's wild times to Angela and Cathy. (Verlyn Bullington)
My love to David Teston, my craziness to Pam and Denise and great friendship to Murph! (Lori Burnsed)
My party life to Annie and Lenore, and my friendly personality to everyone else. (Randy Bush)
My bull-riding skills to anyone who dares to take the challenge. (Dennis Butler)
To Katrina, Teresa, and Dawn I leave our popcorn from Bio. II, to Ruth Ann all the fun of my senior year, and to next year's yearbook editor — nerves of steel, never-ending patience, and Austin Neal. (Barbara Cain)
Full use of the tracks to the crew. (Matt Campbell)
To Danielle, a year's supply of hugs, a Dictionary of American Slang for Dasha, and my special thanks to Mr. "J." (Dwight P. Carson)
My ability to always get in trouble in Mr. Lane's class to anyone; my partying skills to my little sister in '84. (Dale Cash)
My love to Debbie Lane. (Allen Castle)
My catching ability to Bill A., my hitting to Joey C., and thanks to my teachers, especially Coach Cimador (PaPa) for believing in me. (Cly Fton Champion)
To everyone, my luck in finishing high school! (Dina Charette)
To Brad Starling, my Trim Man ability and the will to never say "no" to the garfish again! (Leroy Christopher)
To Squeezer, my ability to think of cute names, and my love to Joel. (Wendy Cone)
My empty beer can to Mr. Connell, my checkered shoes to anyone brave enough to wear them, and all my love to Sheryl. (Pat Cooper)
Student Parking space #15 to Clayton Lamar Evans. (Bruce Crabtree)
Good luck to my sister, Kim, the "geese posse" to Kristi, the fun of trailer-outs to Kim, Lisa, and Sarah and the memories of Tallahassee to Julie. (Dana Culliton)
My quietness to Karen Lewellen. (Albert Danet)
My non-sewing machine to Sally Felder and my broken clarinet keys to Lisa Walker. (Cathy Davis)
My ability to get to school on time to my sister, Lisa, and all my love to Joey. (Donna R. Denaro)
To my brother, Thomas, my lunch money and to my sister, Antoinette, all my willpower to stay out of trouble. (Roberta Denson)
My popcorn in Bio. II to Teresa and Katrina; my basketball memorabilia to Ashlie and Jean. (Dawn DeVoss)
All my rock albums to Rita, my vans to Kevin B., and my dog to "DOC G" and Mark. (David Dious)
All my love to Mrs. Kelly; my money to Lisa Barker. (Ruby Dorman)
To David Cumbee my party and mud-slinging ability. (Pat Dowling)
All my cheer to Mr. Hetrick. (John Ecklund)
My "Little Bo Peep" hat to Richie Fiorelli and Roy Hines since they love it so much, and my "smarts" to all the upcoming underclassmen! (Darla Ennis)
To my little brother, Richie, my brains and ability to stay out of trouble. He needs it more than I do. (Jeanne Fiorelli)
To David, all my love, and to my fellow graduates, the best of luck in the future. (Joanna Fitts)
All my good times and luck to my sister, Susie. (Lorraine K. Freese)
To Jan, all my cigarette butts from the smoking area. (Greg Garner)
To Kristi, Kim, and Portia my "mush" face Pirate to fight over and to Brad, Sarah, and Lisa, more spicy Chemistry talks! (Jodi Gentry)
All my fun to my sister Mary Lou, and all my love and life to Fidencio Alexander. (Rosalinda Gonzalez)
Success to the band, brains to my "dingy" sister, Gail, and the best of luck to "Drachendame." (Elaine Gosselin)
My ability to kill doves with buckshot to Chris Gude, and all my love to Tracey Fennell. (Del Graham)
My admiration to my mother for helping me make it through these trying years of high school. (Kathryn Grant)
To Greg Sims, my coolness, and to all the other young ladies my love. (John Gray)
Patience, tolerance, and kindness to one's fellowman to all who tread old Pasco's hallways. (Lee Roy Gray)
My ability to leave headlights on in the parking lot every morning to "Stub-Woman." (Jan Green)
My lunch to Kathy H. and Kim D.; lots of self-confidence and a super guy to Kathy M. (Brenda Gregory)
To this school, the hope that I ain't got to come back! (Tim Groover)
My thanks to Desi, Murphy, and "The Gang" for the wild times; good luck to my brother Joel. (Judy Grove)
All my auto mechanics wrenches to Mr. Sessa (since they're his anyway), and all my love to Kim. (Chris Gude)
To my little brother, Steve, my ability to party and not get caught by mom and dad. (Robert Gude)
My exquisite French accent to Mike V. and Ronnie P. and my well-organized locker to Ramon. (Sally Guillen)
My locker to whoever wants it, my books to Mr. Conn and everything else I need, I will keep! (Deryk R. Gunn)
My good luck to Bruce Register and my good looks to Mr. Scott Johnson. (Bryon Harris)
All my punk clothes to Wild Woman Adams and all my punk albums to Mary Carringer. (Mona Hassell)
My happiness to Kerri and Lamar, luck to Verlyn and Darryl and the gang (Slap, Kiss, and Hug). (Loretta Hawes)
My ability to go to as few classes as possible to Pat Barthle. (Kevin Hays)
To Mullet, I leave Gus; To Pig, a washcloth; to Carrie, the best of the "Great Nineteen." (Jeff Hill)
My ability to come to school everyday to Gena Hickey, and all my debts to Marcia Roenicke. (Shari Hillsgrove)
My ability to get to school on time and make passing grades to Jackie Agnello. (Lynn Hobbs)
All my patience to flag captain Tammy Roberts and all my love to Derrick Reedy. (Kimberly Evonne Hormuth)
Every bug and memo in Ag. to MoJo, and my ability to be a "positive influence" to Reid B. (Samira Jackson)
All my shares of stock in the Piggly Wiggly to Mark Jeter. (Brian Jarrett)
My ability to get caught to Semen; memories of the '82 steer show to Sissy; and good luck to Mark. (Jeff Jeter)
To Randy Dean, my bad habits, and to Melissa Musser all of my grades. (Connie Johns)
My twirling to the upcoming majorettes, my citrus judging to Kim Ergle and my everlasting love to Greg Keith. (Charmayne Johnson)
My ability to dip half a can of Hawkins and not get sick to Mark Jeter; the Road Roach to Steve Hermann if he's man enough to own it; my humor to Lee Sargent. (David Johnson)
My jump-shot to "Spaz," and my partying ability to the Sophomore Class (they definitely need it)! (Mark Johnson)
To Leslie Wilson the ability to stand strong and to remember the strong can survive. (Yvette Johnson)
To my closest friend, Kimberly, and others special to me, laughter, faded photographs, and memories of good times shared. (Rhonda Jones)
My golf swing to Kelly R., Club President to Kristi and Kim, and all my love to Kim P. (Clay Jordan)
My eternal wit and humor to Lisa Denaro and the Crocky-mobile to Alyse DeWitt. (Mark "Crocky" Jordan)
Thanks to my family for my happiness and love for life; all my love to Genny and my bossin' ability to Chris and Mike. (Brett Kandzer)

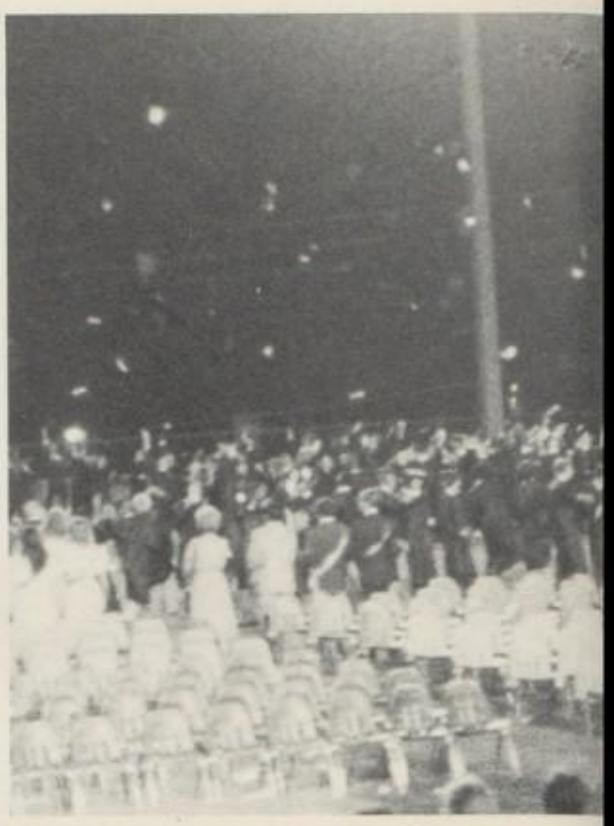
The Experience

by Eddie Rice

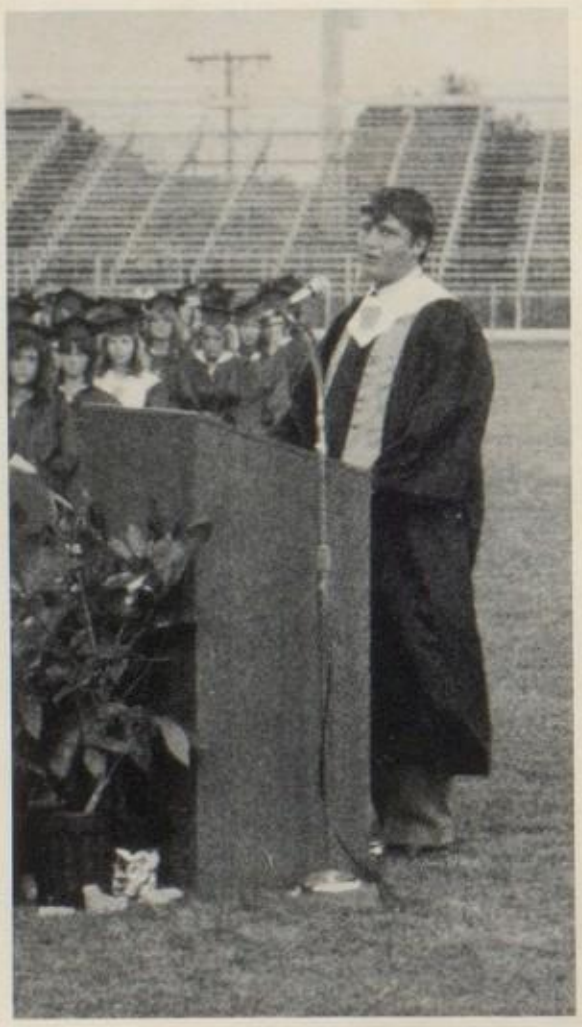


Hats off to the class of '83!

"Does anyone have an extra bobbypin?"

"I need something to hold my stole on; this wind is blowing it everywhere!"

These were the two most common phrases heard on Graduation night, 1983. The next most common was "At least it's not raining!"



Eddie expresses special appreciation to his parents.

A million dollar grin tells the story as Brett receives best wishes and his diploma from Mr. Kalinowski.

The girls watch in anticipation as the final diploma is given.

Samira's "moment" finally arrives!

Pat, Dean, Mike and Ricky attend a required "rainy day" practice in the Activity Center.

This Moment

by Samira Jackson

Christine accepts one of many embraces.

After hours of practice in W. F. Edwards stadium and in the activity center (just in case of rain), June 10th finally arrived. It was just like any other graduation ceremony — the 250 graduates marched on the field, filled the chairs, heard the speeches, received their diplomas, moved their tassels, turned their class rings, sang the Alma Mater, and filed off to form an 83. There was only one major difference — this was the Class of 1983!

The Future is Ours

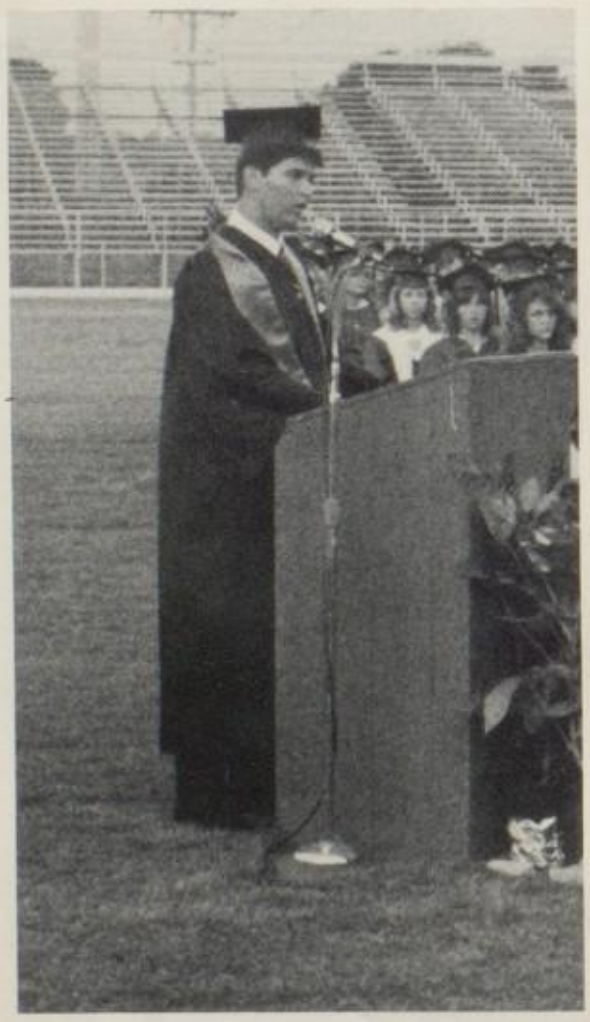
by Jason Wisniewski

Dannie and Teresa are "all smiles" as they march off the field.

For about an hour after the ceremony was over, friends and classmates just couldn't seem to stop hugging and congratulating each other, for they knew this was the last time they would all be together as a group for many years . . . or maybe forever. Promises were made to try to get together at reunions.

by Toni Musser

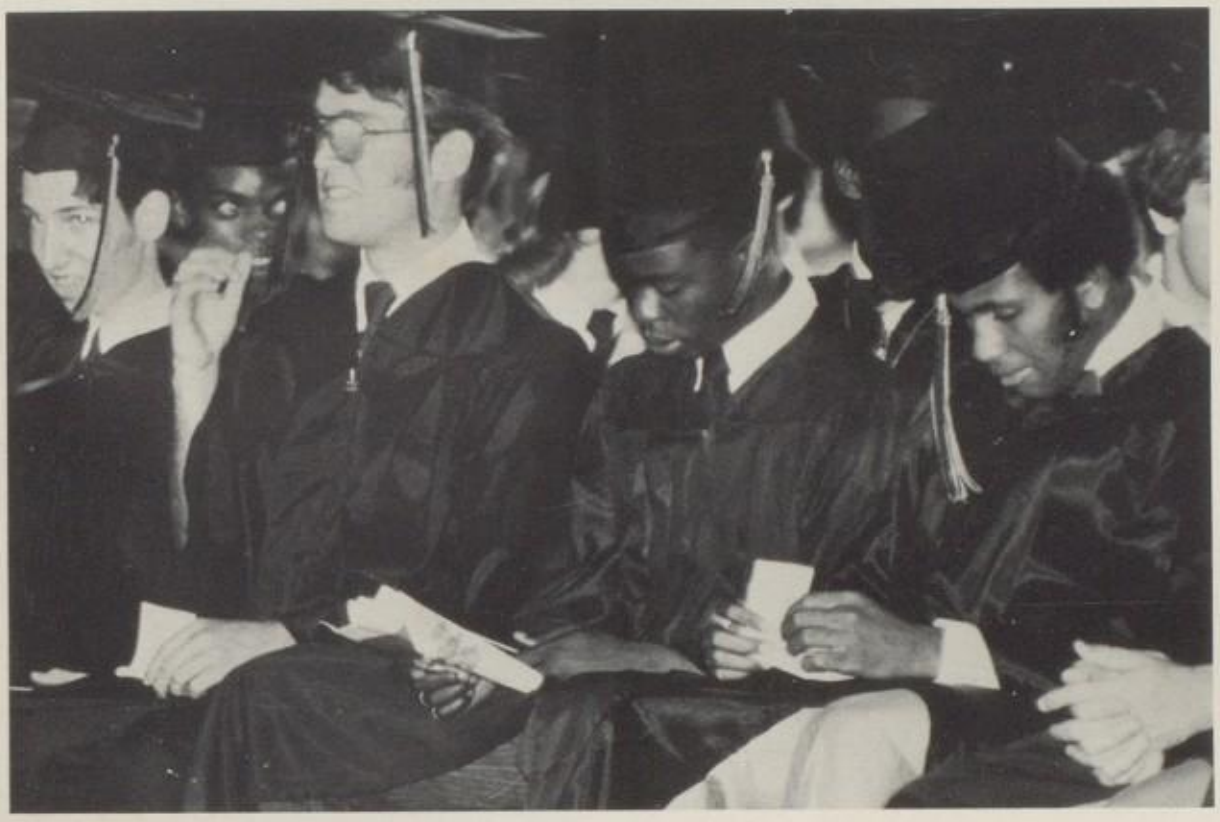
Dina pensively clutches her rose and diploma — mementos of an unforgettable night.



Jason challenges us to take charge of our "futures."

It's photographers field day at graduation.

"We made it," exults Barbara!



Mark, Mike, Horace and Earl can't wait to get out of their ties!

Teresa and Melissa share a congratulatory hug.

Looks Like We Made It

by Barbara Cain

Class of . . .

The Class of '84 has shared a closeness brought about by participation in various school activities. We have been faced with many challenges and by sticking together we have met those challenges.

The biggest responsibility and privilege of the junior class was the sponsoring of the senior prom. Magazine sales, cap sales, and the Sadie Hawkins Dance were projects that we used to finance this big event. It was hard work but we were proud of our efforts and accomplishments.

This year was a year of setting goals and attaining them. Our junior year was a lot of fun. We will always remember the goals that we set for ourselves and the cooperation that enabled us to reach them.

It's Our First

This year, the sophomore class officers and representatives have participated in many Student Council activities — especially those involving fund-raising. We have enjoyed the experience of working with older council members, and I feel we have benefited and learned from them. We like to be involved.

I'm very pleased with the performance of our sophomore council members, and I challenge next year's class to do as well! You can expect to hear from the Class of 85!

The Joy of Being Young

Friendship and togetherness are great, but it can get a little crowded!

Tami makes corrections on her English theme.

Carrying the Spirit Stick means "you're a winner" like Laura.

"If I'd only memorized the quadratic formula!" moans Marsha.

Sophomore life is a celebration of the joys of being young and at the same time, the challenges of growing up.

Most of us get our first taste of responsibility in our sophomore year, and through this we learn to appreciate the life we had before high school and wonder what the future holds for us.

Many students start looking toward graduation and even college in their sophomore year. They take the PSAT in the fall and consult guidance counselors about career possibilities.

The first year of high school is a trying time, full of new experiences: new friends, new classes, new challenges. It's a time to learn to be an adult, and a time to celebrate being a kid.

The bell for third period sends Mike "running" for class.

Glenn enjoys a snack during mid-term exams.

Libby, Sue, Lisa, and Karen indulge in a little campus chatter.

Janice doesn't eat often, but when she does . . .

New math: two guys and two girls equal great odds!

Dedication

In the spirit of CELEBRATION and with heartfelt appreciation

we dedicate the 1983 Pirate

to

for their many hours of unselfish service on our behalf.

DEDICATION

In the spirit of CELEBRATION and with heartfelt appreciation, we dedicate the 1983 Pirate to Student Services for their many hours of unselfish service on our behalf.

With ready smiles and helping hands, the people of Student Services — Mrs. Lillian Keen, Mrs. Enid Mancinelli, Mr. Bill Reynolds, Mrs. Lucile Rom, and a host of student aides — help us plan our schedules and our futures. They guide us from that first SSAT test to graduation, becoming in the process, very special friends who are always ready to listen.

Thank you, Student Services!

Though there are many facets to school life, academic life is the main reason for our being here. Organizations, sports and special events are made extra special because they are the rewards for the work we put into the academic side of our lives; we work so we can play!

Academics prepare us for our futures. They teach us how to apply knowledge and how to be responsible for ourselves and others — qualities needed in the years to come. For some of us, learning becomes a life-long quest.

Making Executive Decisions

Few would debate the notion that ones high school years are the most treasured, enjoyable, and rewarding that an individual will experience in the trek through life. Moreover, seldom does a high school graduate fail to celebrate those high school days without pleasant solemn memories. Class reunions become magnified and significantly celebrated as the decades roll by after your high school time is over.

Life, then, like your high school days should be looked upon as a positive adventure and, more importantly, as a series of individual celebrations. For example, some of the friendships you establish at Pasco Comprehensive will indeed last a lifetime.

The victories in academics, athletics, music, agriculture, to mention a few, will never be forgotten. Neither will some of your losses or disappointments experienced while you are a high school student.

It is my sincere wish that later on when you reminisce about high school after you leave here, you will associate these years with favorable recollections as well as happy remembrances which in reality will be meaningful celebration for you.

The Math, Science, and Health Departments go hand-in-hand. From Physical Science to Physics, Consumer Math to Calculus, or Health Fundamentals to Health Service Aide, the teachers are both caring and instructive. They can prepare you for college, vocational school, or consumer buying. All of the departments offer valuable, first-hand knowledge of the world around us.

Whatever courses you choose, your mental health and calculator may not survive! As someone once said, "If a person lives an evil life, when he dies he'll go to AP Calculus."

Around the World in 180 Days

Whatever your choice, the Language Arts Department has the course! There's Creative Writing, British/American Lit., fundamental classes in grammar, and a new college-level AP class, to name a few. Also, our Foreign Language Department gives us a chance to observe other cultures up close as we learn a new language.

The goal of our Social Studies Department is to increase the student's understanding of the governing principles for society. If you're lucky, you can debate great issues in Mr. Dampier's Law class or participate in "It's quiz time, kiddies" in Mr. Connell's American History.

To help us through high school is the warm, friendly Student Services Department. They assist us with our problems, schedule changes, and career goals. It's a nice place to visit!

They Put Learning Into Life

Business, Cosmetology, Home Ec., and Work Study are designed to increase old skills and provide new ones in preparation for after-high-school life.

Business courses provide the student with clerical skills for a place in the business profession, while homemaking skills are practiced in the Home Ec. department.

Cosmetology gives actual on-the-job training and prepares the student for immediate entrance into the world of hair care.

Work Study is a new class designed for sophomores who wish to obtain a job.

The Instructional Materials Center, or IMC as we call it, provides a quiet retreat for students where they can pursue the pleasures of reading or studying.

Making Copies or Creating Originals

DE, DCT, Machine Shop, Auto Mechanics, Drafting, and Art offer the student the choice of on-the-job training or various projects to make.

Proper care and safe use of tools and machines, complex technical skills, drawing, making models are a few of the important lessons learned.

In these classes, students learn the technique of self-expression by creating their own masterpieces, and simultaneously develop skills which can be immediately translated into dollars after graduation.

Exercising the Mind and Body

EH, EMH, Alternative Ed., and SLD are programs designed to provide an ideal growth environment for students to achieve their maximum potential-enhancing latent skills and developing lacking ones.

A course almost all students take is Driver's Ed. It teaches the fundamentals of safe, defensive driving and gives us a break on insurance rates!

Musically inclined students improve their skills in Band or Chorus. They provide entertainment at football half-time, march in parades, present concerts, and play or sing for special occasions.

Physical Education is a course which tests your "mettle." It gives you an opportunity to enjoy fresh air and sunshine while strengthening your body.

Sharing Thoughts; Sharing Memories

AU REVOIR

Every year a group of friends must suffer rough departure. The pain of these separations had never affected me before.

Going through your first twelve years of school, you gain many friends that you grow accustomed to being around as much as family. At a young age you are never really aware of the strength of these attachments, but as time weaves its way, so does this bond.

When you reach high school, you look around. A lot of your classmates' faces are as familiar as your own. But you don't stop to think about what it would be like if one school day none of these friendly faces were there.

Soon your senior year rolls around just as mine has, and your classmates are deciding what they are going to do when the year is over. This is when the reality of going out into the world starts hitting you. A tougher reality perhaps is facing the fact that you must soon say "au revoir" to people you have literally grown up with.

In previous years you have seen graduations and have watched others go and separate themselves from one another. Now you are on the brink of this experience yourself, which makes it a bit more dramatic.

Until you experience this departure, you just don't understand its effects. It is a painful traditional ritual, a cutting off point which forces you to grow up.

MY PLACE

Take me to a place
Where I can find,
Beauty and love,
And peace of mind.

A place where violence
And hatred are unknown,
Where cities and streets are safe,
For the young to roam.

Where love is given freely
With no request for return,
And conquest and prominence
Are of no concern.

Take me to a place,
Where I may live without fear,
Where there are only laughter,
Kind thoughts, and abundant cheer.

I want a place of free,
Not feigned feelings.
A place having no rejections or loss,
Only success and a heart's quick healing.

I want a place,
Where I can be me.
Will this dream of mine,
Ever be?

EMERGING

Thoughts,
Images of the mind.
They come without warning,
Or sometimes not at all.

Ideas,
Waiting to be born.
Images of the imagination,
The watercolors of the soul.

A calm meadow,
The fledgling writer is met,
By thoughts of nothing.

Time,
As if by volcanic eruption,
The ideas come.

Images form.

The pictures take shape.

In Loving Memory of

Mrs. Christine Mickens

1913-1983

Good-bye Christine Mickens,

I first met you and your husband over ten years ago, when my wife taught for Professor Mickens. Your names were never mentioned that superlatives did not follow. What a comfort it must have been to have felt loved and respected by so many.

In later years when I was Assistant Principal at Pasco Comprehensive High School, I enjoyed knowing you as both a professional and a friend. You always had a smile and a kind word to give everybody you greeted. Your efforts were never boosted by you — but noticed by many.

When I heard of your death, I was saddened, but it gave me time to reflect upon you and what life means to all of us. Then my heart felt warm and comforted because my thoughts turned to a lovely lady who believed in God, believed in herself and believed in others. You left us Christine, but only in body; your life has changed things for many people. Your ideas, philosophies, and positive attitudes will live on forever.

You accomplished what most people dream of but few live to realize. So to you I say good-bye for now and thank God for sending people like you this way.

Michael G. Rom

Sports

Almost everyone has the desire to compete at one time or another. During our high school years, these emotions are heightened.

Sports participants learn to work together and to work alone. They gain an understanding of "fair play" and are always rewarded for a job well done.

Teamwork and individual achievement are two sides of the same proverbial coin. Sports competitions involve the entire school — team members, coaches, and spectators. They evoke a collage of emotions — weariness, joy, grief, excitement — but most of all pride. The pride that comes from representing our school and ourselves.

High expectations for the 1983 Pirate Football team at the beginning of their season were jarred in their opening game as they gave Tampa Catholic the win. This shocked many who had slated the Pirates to be district contenders at the start of the year.

Twice during the season, field goals played a major role in the outcome of the games. For example, the Pirates lost in the final seconds to the Zephyrhills Bulldogs as they placed the football between the uprights to win by a field goal. The Pirates turned this strategy around as they beat Jesuit 17-13. Although it was far from our best season, many victories were won in the locker room, on the practice field and in our relationships. We look forward to higher scores in '84!

Portia Williams

The 1982-83 Varsity Cheerleading squad, consisting of eight enthusiastic girls, attended summer camp this year, bringing back to Pirate territory one Excellent and four Superior ribbons. This measure of our "spirit" was extremely important to us, but what was equally important were the friendships that were forged during that week. Through these friendships, we have formed lasting and very special ties.

The eight of us had a fantastic time cheering for the Mighty Pirates during the football and basketball seasons. To us, they were never losers. We found it very enjoyable, but demanding. Ms. Laßell was our new sponsor, and we received additional help from coach Holly Herndon. Both of these ladies worked tirelessly to help us build a skillful squad.

When we look back to this school year, we will do so with warm memories. We succeeded where many other squads have failed as we developed a feeling of genuine respect and affection for each other.

Our seven man squad was ready to take on anyone, and all opponents were in for a fight. Unfortunately, this winning attitude wasn't always recorded by the scoreboard in spite of our performance on the court.

Regardless of the losses we sustained this season, the Pasco Pirates are, and always will be, fighters from the start to the finish — no matter where we finish!

Hustle Insures Victory

Determination and enthusiasm best describe the Lady Pirates. 1982-83 was a good year for the team. They started the season by winning first place in the Zephyrhills Tip-Off Tournament, defeating both Gulf and Zephyrhills.

Backed by the scoring of seniors Suzanne Pearson and Dawn DeVoss, the Lady Pirates continued their winning ways by rounding out the season with a 13-9 record.

Lacking in the size which is usually needed for a winning team, the Lady Pirates made up for their shortcomings with hard work, and most of all, hustle.

The Net Set Requests Rematch

The results of the 1983 tennis season were mixed. The boys' team did well. Our record was 8-7, and we really earned it, with lots of practice and hard work. Everyone played hard and improved greatly throughout the season.

It was a rough year, though, for the girls, who ended with a 2-12 record. That record, however, doesn't reflect how well the doubles teams of Lorraine Sumner and Karen Williams, and Stacey Muck and Lisa McCabe played.

Endurance Pays Off in the Long Run

P. Kreusch, G. Willis, T. Hill, A. Herrmann, G. Piersall

The Cross Country season started off on the right foot with four new members and one returning letterman, Tommy Hill. His three-mile run time of 17 minutes and 29 seconds was the year's best time posted by a member of the boy's team. Newcomers Glenn Piersall, Pat Kreusch and Garner Willis worked very hard to improve times throughout the season. As proof of this, sophomore Glenn Piersall posted the team's second best three mile time of 17 minutes and 31 seconds.

Ashlie Herrmann had an outstanding year in girls' cross country. As one of the three top sophomore runners in the area, she placed eighth in the conference two mile run and was named to the All-Area team.

The 1982-83 Volleyball Team gained valuable experience this year. The team consisted of three seniors and six underclassmen, all of whom had considerable playing time, making them strong contenders for next year.

One player commented, "When things were not going well, we held together and grew not only as a team, but also in our friendship for one another."

The season ended with a trip to USF to watch them play FIU, followed by an unforgettable few hours at Malibu Grand Prix.

Although the Pirate Soccer Team finished with a 4-14 record, we were pleased with our efforts. We started as a young, unexperienced team, but as the season progressed, so did we. This was proven at the Gainesville Tournament where we placed second, also by our 14-2 victory over the Hernando Leopards.

With the strong leadership of captains George Godfrey and Ricky Mancinelli, we not only learned soccer, we learned respect. Much is also owed to Coach Mark Holifer. He never gave up, therefore we didn't either.

Baseball in 1982-83 was one of the most exciting years of my high school career. We had the attitude of never quitting. No matter what happened, we always played ball until the final out of the game. We showed class on and off the field, always fighting to win. The fans admired our spirit.

Coach Cimador led us to a 17-10 season. He believed in us all the time. He stated before the season began that we would be contenders for the GCC and District titles. We won the Gulf Coast Conference Championship, and also collected Coach Cimador's 300th victory.

The graduating seniors wish the best of luck to next year's team. May they learn as much as we did from a man who knows kids and baseball, Coach Lenny Cimador.

Going into the season with only five returning players and a new coach, no one knew what to expect. However, the 1982-83 Varsity Lady Pirates Softball team started their successful season at the Dunedin Invitational Tournament. The team gained unity as well as building a strong reputation with an outstanding defense throughout the entire tournament. The season had its ups and downs and climaxed at the district tournament. The team almost pulled off one of the biggest upsets ever but lost a heartbreaking 1-0 decision to Tampa Catholic in the semifinals.

The team would like to thank coaches Debbie Thor, Sue Stephens, and James Taylor for their hard work, dedication, and devotion throughout the season.

The Pirates fight for the last inch.

The JV Football Team had excellent talent and great speed which gave us the advantage over our opponents this year. After the upsetting loss of our season opener, we made it a goal to remain unbeaten in the remaining seven games. This goal was accomplished!

Our success can be attributed to the direction of Coach Ryan and assistant Coach Maples, and also to the very talented group of players working together as a team.

Final record: 7-1

We Bring in the Second Team

The life of a cheerleading squad isn't always glamorous! We began our year with cheerleading camp, four days during which we got up at 6:30 in the morning and worked until 10:00 at night, learning new routines and developing a new style.

As JV cheerleaders, we raised funds through traditional car washes and by selling football programs.

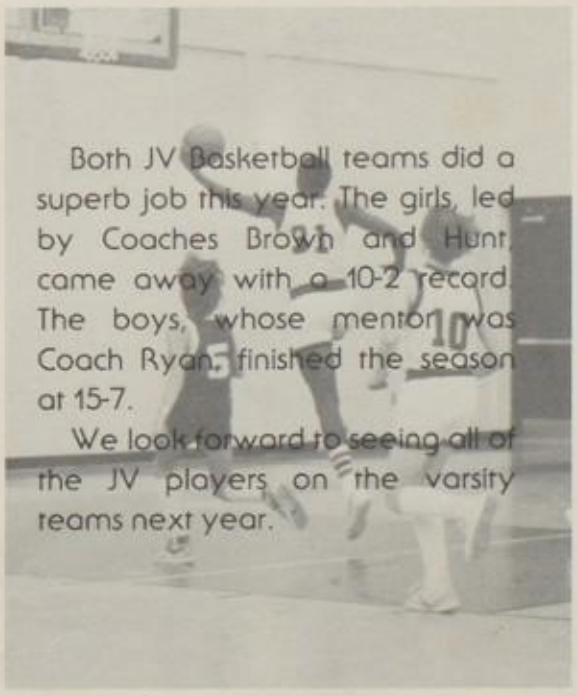
JV Basketball: His and Hers



Both JV Basketball teams did a superb job this year. The girls, led by Coaches Brown and Hunt, came away with a 10-2 record. The boys, whose mentor was Coach Ryan, finished the season at 15-7.

We look forward to seeing all of the JV players on the varsity teams next year.

Taylor Trotters Triumph

Suzanne Pearson and Coach Cimador execute a tough volley at the net.

Mr. Taylor makes history instead of teaching it.

There are no "ground balls" in volleyball. (P. Smith)

The Taylor Trotters, coached by Mr. James Taylor and composed of teachers inexperenced in playing volleyball, were challenged again this year by the Girls' Volleyball team led by Coaches Debbie Thor and Sue Stephens. The purpose was to raise funds for the team. The competition, performed for the student body, was fast and furious.

Last year, the Trotters were defeated, but revenge was sweet this time around. The Trotters win "angered" the girls, who proceeded to douse the victors with surplus water, ending all further competiton for the year!

Since the teams are tied 1-1, the championship game will be held in the fall of 1983. Each side is determined to be the winner!

Getting out of class was worth a dollar — or was it?

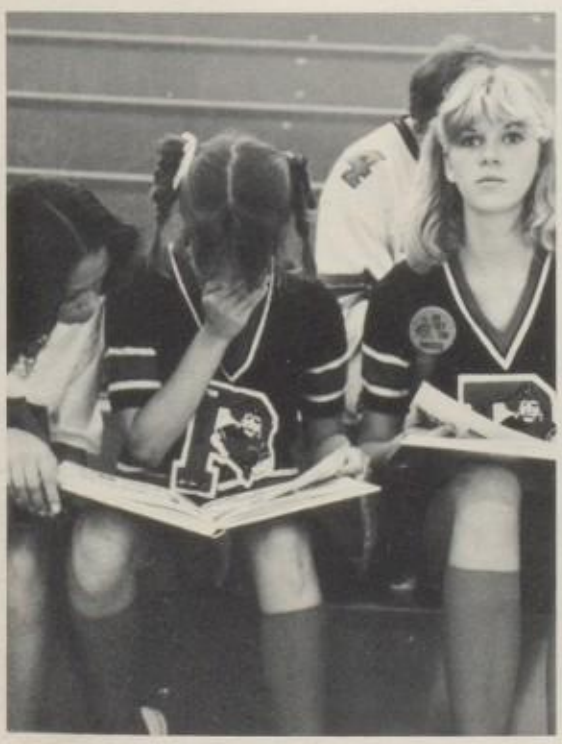
Organizations



Most people feel the need to be more than just students. Because of this, they become involved in the extra-curricular activities offered at our school. By participating in our clubs, and organizations, students make new friends, learn beneficial social skills, and become community-minded volunteers.

Organizations instill a sense of responsibility for the welfare of others and at the same time allow us to develop our own special interests and talents. We experience the fun of "belonging."

Band of Pirates Marches Through Changes

"Earth calling Jimmy; Earth calling Jimmy!"

. . . most exciting event was Citrus Festival . . . (A. Beaumont)

The clarinets lean into this number!

The Pirates finish with a flourish.

OFFICERS: K. Hormuth, Flag Captain; M. Storch, Sec.-Treas.; D. Barthle, 1st Lieut.; R. Bush, Captain; J. Russ, Drum Major; C. Balionis, Asst. Drum Major.

Surprise and change. These two words describe the 1982-83 Band of Pirates. One of the biggest (smallest) changes of this year was the addition of Mr. Frank McKinney, our new big-talented, small-statured band director. He had a different way of doing things, and we were proud of our continued improvement and accomplishments during the past year.

Band Camp '82 brought about many surprises and challenges — such as trying to do a one hundred man show with only thirty people! Accomplishing this nearly impossible task made it readily apparent that more changes were to follow! By the first day of school we were well on our way to our first half-time show. Late buses and a last minute decision by Mr. McKinney and our Drum Major prevented us from performing at the first football game. When our biggest game rolled around against Zephyrhills, we were ready!

The downpour didn't dampen Danielle's spirit!

The 1982-83 BAND OF PIRATES

Preparation for homecoming gave us a chance to start changing our show for the FBA Marching contest November 19, in Plant City. The Band's spirited performances that warm Saturday evening earned us an Excellent rating. After performing at many benefits and concerts we directed our attention to the Florida Citrus Music Festival February 11, in Winter Haven. Despite many setbacks, the band gave their best performance of the year, and earned a second place, proving to everyone what our small band could accomplish!

In addition to contests, the Band of Pirates performed at many important community events including the Pasco County Fair, opening of the Humana hospital, Octoberfest, Royal Oak Nursing Resort, Travelers' Rest Mobile Home Park, and the Strawberry Festival. For our community services, the mayor of Dade City declared Feb. 18 and 19 as Band Appreciation Days.

Probably the two biggest surprises of the year were earning an Excellent rating at concert contest and being awarded best overall band in the Chasco Fiesto Parade in New Port Richey. They left no doubt that Pasco is still a name to be respected.

FLUTES and OBOE: Lisa Denaro, Diana Barthle, Missy Heany, Elaine Gosselin, Michael Sledge, Susan Dowling, Tammy Hatton.

BRASS and BASSOON: Ben Barr, Ricky Terranova, Mike Storch, Jeff Hill, Junior Hanson, Randy Bush, Lee Fountain, Chris Balionis, Bryant Phillips, Jimmy Russ.

Mrs. Ann Roberts adopts the pirate life-style.

"The best part was when I went 20 yards in 11 steps and one big slide." (T. Hatton)

Other high points of the year were our "Hee-Bee-Gee-Bees" Variety Show, the Christmas and spring concerts and an exciting four-day trip to Atlanta. Together they rounded out a year that provided each and every band member with a handful of never-to-be-forgotten memories, made especially for them.

The 1982-83 guard started out with 14 flags and 6 sabers, but by the time football season arrived, our numbers began to diminish. By the end of marching season, we had only five very determined flags and three dedicated sabers. We were not discouraged. We attended the Florida Band Association contest and received a II for our efforts. We were pleased.

We later went to Citrus County and marched in the worst kind of weather, but the adverse conditions did not keep us from receiving another second in the field show. We were very proud of all of our accomplishments. We proved to ourselves and others that quality was much more important than quantity. I hope next year's guard will work with equal dedication.

Following tryouts on July 26, 1982, the majorettes organized a car wash to raise money for band camp. We then put in many long hours of practice while preparing for the upcoming season.

A fine performance by the corps at FBA Marching Contest helped the band win an Excellent rating. Our finest performance took place at the Citrus Festival where we proved we had spirit and dedication. After marching in a driving rainstorm, we gave a superior performance, winning a coveted second place in the State Division. This year was an unforgettable experience.

Feature Twirler

Charmayne Johnson, feature twirler for the 1983 PCHS Band of Pirates, loves working with people. She was one of the twirlers last year and soloed this year.

Among the many activities she participated in the FBA contest in Plant City and the Citrus Festival. Charmayne also placed fifth in the HOSA talent show at the University of South Florida.

Beth Faulk, her 8 year old cousin, has served as her mascot this year and probably next year as Charmayne tries out for Gatorette at the University of Florida.

Feature twirler Charmayne Johnson, and future twirler Beth Faulk.

You get twice as much twirl with two batons!

"I like to be in front; I like to show off."

Practice makes perfect and Charmayne does a lot of it.

We live in a society that oftentimes lacks the influence of our Creator and his Word. We, as an organization, have tried to make that influence present at PCHS. Our second year as a club was one of growth. Our membership grew by almost 50% over the previous year. Our standards are high, our principles are those found in the Bible and our conviction is to stand for what is right.

Mind Your Own Business

CBE students have had a very successful year. The students go to school in the morning and work in offices in the afternoon. Employers include The Bank of Pasco County, Darby Farms, Pasco County Court House, Tampa Electric Co., and Pasco County School Board.

Activities included: early-bird breakfasts/meetings; fundraising projects such as doughnut sales, jewelry sales, and a car wash; and participation in the homecoming parade.

Funds were raised to host a supervisor appreciation luncheon which was held on December 9 at Mid-State Federal Community Room. Also, a banquet was given for parents, employers and supervisors on May 26 at Marmion Hall, St. Leo College.

Most CBE members, like Lisa Krig, are active participants in FBLA.

FBLA Is on the Move

FBLA has had a busy year! Activities included: participation in the homecoming parade, food baskets during the holidays, initiation and installation of new members and officers, celebration of FBLA Week (Feb. 14-18), District VIII Conference at Lake Wales (Feb.), State Leadership Conference in Orlando, co-sponsoring a fundraising BBQ (FBLA/PBL) and our appreciation banquet on May 26, for parents and community members.

Growing Food for a Growing World

The greatest agricultural production in the world takes place in this country. Since the birth of our nation we have raised and grown enough food for ourselves and for millions of people around the world.

The Future Farmers of America recognize the importance of agriculture now and in the years to come. With a steady increase in the world's population, the need for food is increasing also. We look to the future farmers of America to provide for those needs.

Farming is no longer just sowing and reaping. Agriculture must keep pace technologically with other industries. In order to do this the farmers of tomorrow must be well informed, educated citizens. The purpose of FFA is to nurture this kind of human being.

"The Future Farmers of America is not FOR MEN ONLY!" says Buffy Larson.

FHA Entertains Local Ministers

"We, the FHA, face the future with warm courage and high hope . . ." This quotation is from the creed of FHA, a group of students who believe in and strive toward good, solid homes and families.

The highlight of this year was the district meeting at Plant City High School. From this event, Leslie Wilson emerged as a candidate for state president. The outcome of the election was still to be determined at press time. A project we enjoyed was fixing a luncheon for the Pasco ministerial association.

Bringing French Culture to PCHS

Bonjour,

Strolling through Canada, France, Japan, and Spain, during a trip to Epcot Center, was how the French Club began this year. In December, the Foreign Language Christmas Festival reminded us that while our cultures may differ, we are alike in many ways. We, in the French Club, are "citizens of the world." We have endeavored to learn about the cultures of our neighbors on this planet and thereby gain understanding. We also brought a little French atmosphere to PCHS.

German Club Builds Understanding

This has definitely been an exciting year for the ever growing German Club.

December was a busy month for us as we prepared for the Foreign Language Christmas Festival. The Honor Roll Students were invited to the band-room to enjoy the dances, skits, songs, native costumes and food from different countries. With the help of the Spanish and French clubs, the day was a huge success.

The All-County Foreign Language Field Day was also a big success for us. Four students — Christine Rollins, Dana Culliton, Jan Green, and Elaine Gosslin — traveled to New Port Richey to recite poems in German. All four received superior ribbons. Excellent ribbons were won by Jan Green and Lisa Bandy for their Gingerbread House, and by John Tilley and Kevin Scott for their display of the "Unification of Germany."

A Peek Through the Keyhole

The 1982-83 year has been a really good year for our Key Clubbers. We have had fun working together on different projects and helping the people who needed our help. Although we didn't get a chance to do projects on our district theme, "Every Child a Swimmer," we fulfilled our International theme, "Strengthen from Within," every day.

Some of our projects included a fish-fry with the K-family, car washes, Give-A-Lick day, and many more. Thanks for a great year and best of luck for the upcoming years.

It's More Than Just an Honor

Being an Honor Society member is more than just an honor! It takes long hours of study, involvement in school activities and clubs, and much more. The four basic qualities required for membership are merit, scholarship, leadership, and service.

This year the Honor Society sponsored the honor roll teas, co-sponsored Career Day, and tried something new — a hypnotist show! Even with all these activities, it is important to remember that NHS is not a social club. It is a call to excellence.

Promoting Pirate Spirit

A catalyst is something that causes something to speed up or intensify. The PCHS Pep Club is the catalyst that fires up our Pirate Spirit for the sports events. The game would not be the same without the big pep rally that precedes it, much of which is planned and executed by our pep club.

Thanks, Pep Club, for another exciting year!

Pep Clubbers do go to class occasionally.

"We are Pirate Spirit!"

The "railing" is a favorite meeting spot for members.

Of the Students by the Students for the Students

Student Government is the means by which the student body presents their opinions and ideas to the administration. Simplified, the Student Council can be defined as the ears of the administration and the voice of the student body.

This year we planned and organized events for the students such as the Welcome Sophomore Dance, the St. Patrick's Day Dance, Powder Puff Football, Career Day, and Freshman Orientation. Our final contribution was to finance a free-form modern sculpture (designed by PCHS alumnus Tom Hines) which will be placed between the cafeteria and cosmetology buildings.

Discovering Our Latin Heritage

In Florida, Spanish has become second only to English as a functional language. Therefore, it has had a very important role in our curriculum.

The Spanish Club offered many advantages to its members this year. We had the chance to practice our Spanish on one another and to absorb some Spanish culture.

Our group contributed a Spanish Dictionary and tapes to the library, went to lunch and ordered our meal in Spanish, and enjoyed a trip to Epcot Center.

It's More Than Playacting; It's Hard Work

Our Society of Performing Arts got off to a fast start this year. With the experience of two plays and various other activities under our belt, our production of "Up the Down Staircase" was easier than expected.

We worked hard, and everyone did their part to make it one of our best over-all productions.

We also had the very exciting experience of doing the Shakespearean comedy "A Midsummer Night's Dream." A professional director came to coach us in our parts. Literature came alive to those of us who were involved.

"Oh, no! I gave you my love letter instead of my homework!"

Helena: You draw me, you hard-hearted adamant.

"Thus, I die."
Pyramis

Pyramis dies by his own sword.(?) (Sounds a little fishy!)

Oberon: Am I not thy Lord? Titania: Then I must be thy lady.

The date? May 20 and 21. The event? The Drama Club's performance of William Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Resident Director? Victoria Berglund, a professional. PCHS was one of three high schools in the county to receive a grant from the State's Cultural Affairs Division to produce a Shakespearean play.

The outcome? Numerous local critics acclaimed it as the most outstanding drama presentation in the history of the drama department. An involved student expressed it thus, "It was an unparalleled experience."

Asleep my love? What, dead my love?

Authentic costuming adds to the charm of this production.

Oberon sends Puck to find the flower with mystical powers.

The Pictures Tell the Story

Mrs. Margaret "Mom" Jones: Number One teacher, sponsor, and friend!

An assistant editor has to keep his antennae up

"A picture is worth a thousand words."

1983 Pirate Staff

Leigh Freijo, editor of finance, handles the money at Taylor Seminar.

Dear Friends,

Since the '83 Pirate is my "final copy," I just wanted to take an opportunity to say thank you to all the staffers — both past and present — who were so patient with me, and whom I grew to love passionately — my second family!

Also, special appreciation goes to my family, the faculty, administration, and janitorial staff for their encouragement and ever-present assistance.

It's been an exciting, nerve-wracking, challenging five years!

Love,
Mrs. Margaret "Mom" Jones

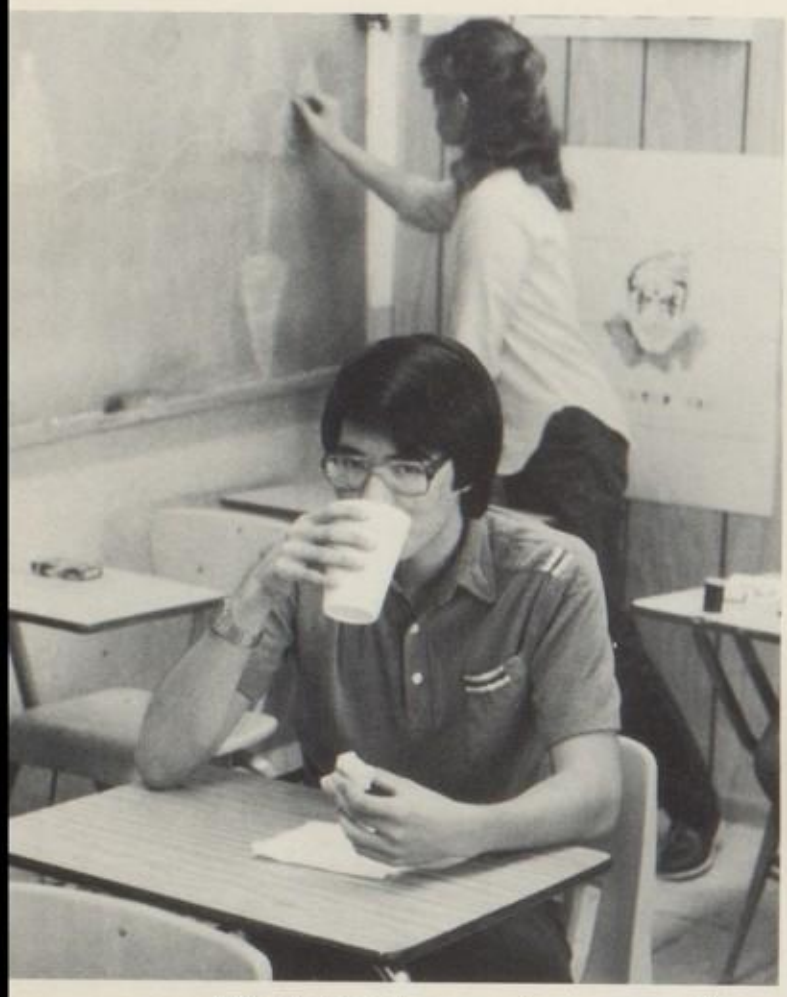
We Captured the SPIRIT!

"A picture is worth a thousand words." That being true, each year the yearbook staff uses hundreds of pictures to tell the special story of that year — the feelings, the memories . . . the celebrations. . We, as a staff, try to present 180 days of school and what seems like millions of extra-curricular activities in about 240 pages.



"We photographers need our energy," says LeeRoy.

"Deadline is tomorrow!? I can't possibly develop this film overnight!" (Jeff Hill)

"I can't sell ads on Saturday night." (K. Culligan)

Our yearbook is a great invention;
PCHS gets all the fame,
The printer gets the money,
And the staff gets all the blame!

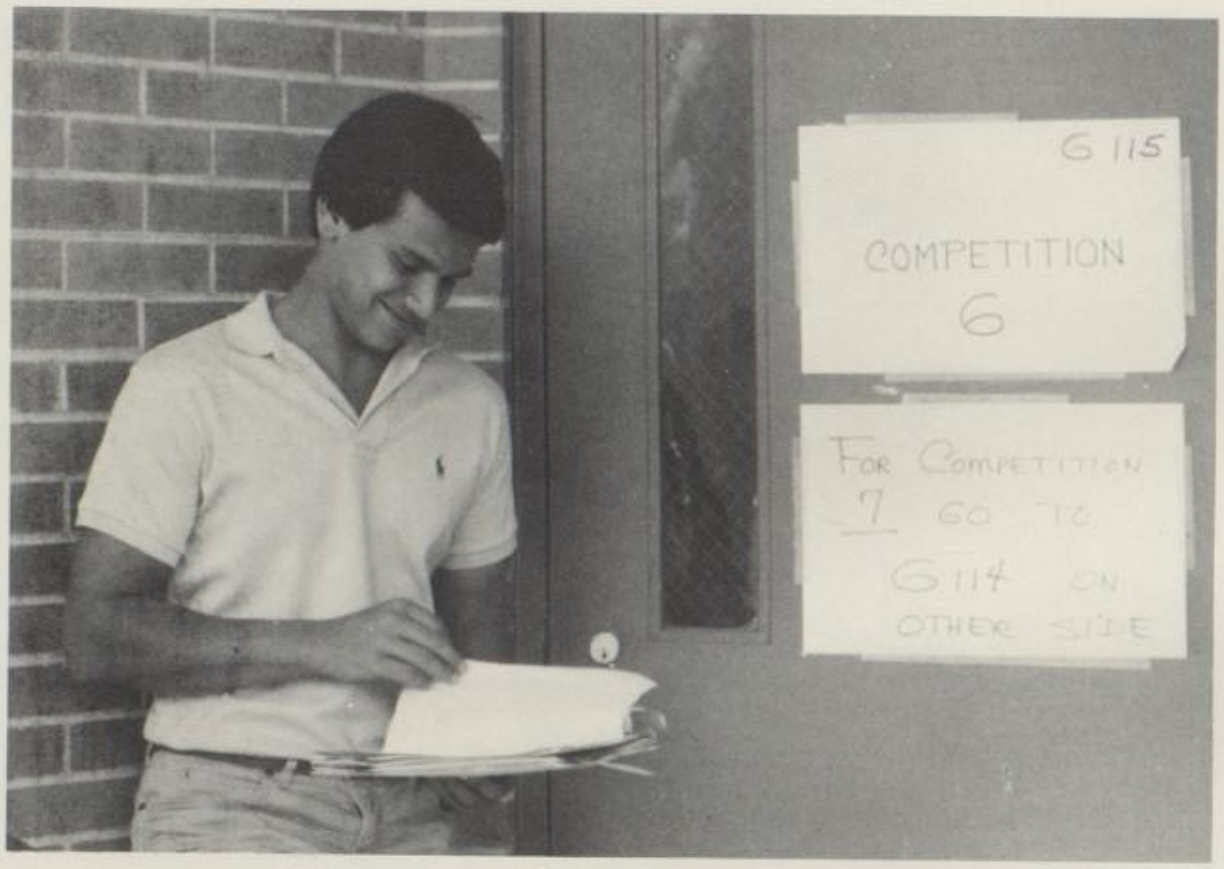
Even more important than capturing each individual event, is capturing the SPIRIT of the year. What did the students want? What did they receive? What did the faculty and administration plan and execute? What were the hopes, the aspirations, the expectations of 1982-83? If we were successful in portraying the year as it was, you can find those answers in these pages.

Allison says, "Karen, pay attention and help me with these captions." (A. Beaumont, K. Smith)

"If I have to type this Senior Will one more time . . ." (T. Rachel)

Foreign Language Field Day

Early in the spring, about 50 foreign language students participated in the second annual Foreign Language Field Day. We nervously awaited our turns to recite poems in French, German, and Spanish. PCHS captured numerous "superior" ribbons, much to the elation of Mrs. Weiskopf and Ms. Souto.



"A little last minute cramming never hurts," says Mike Rao.

Brenda Musser is interested in Latin drama.

Mind Over Matter

Hard work, long hours of study, sacrifices, self-discipline — these are some of the qualities of high academic achievers like Greg Garner, who placed first in the county 12th grade Math Contest, and Lee Roy Gray who took his Science Fair Project all the way to state competition. These and many others deserve recognition for doing more than that which was required.

Our math teams scored a resounding victory in the county, and many of our science fair winners were invited to serve as judges at area elementary and junior high schools. Even our chess club, without benefit of sponsorship, continued to meet for the joy of the challenge!

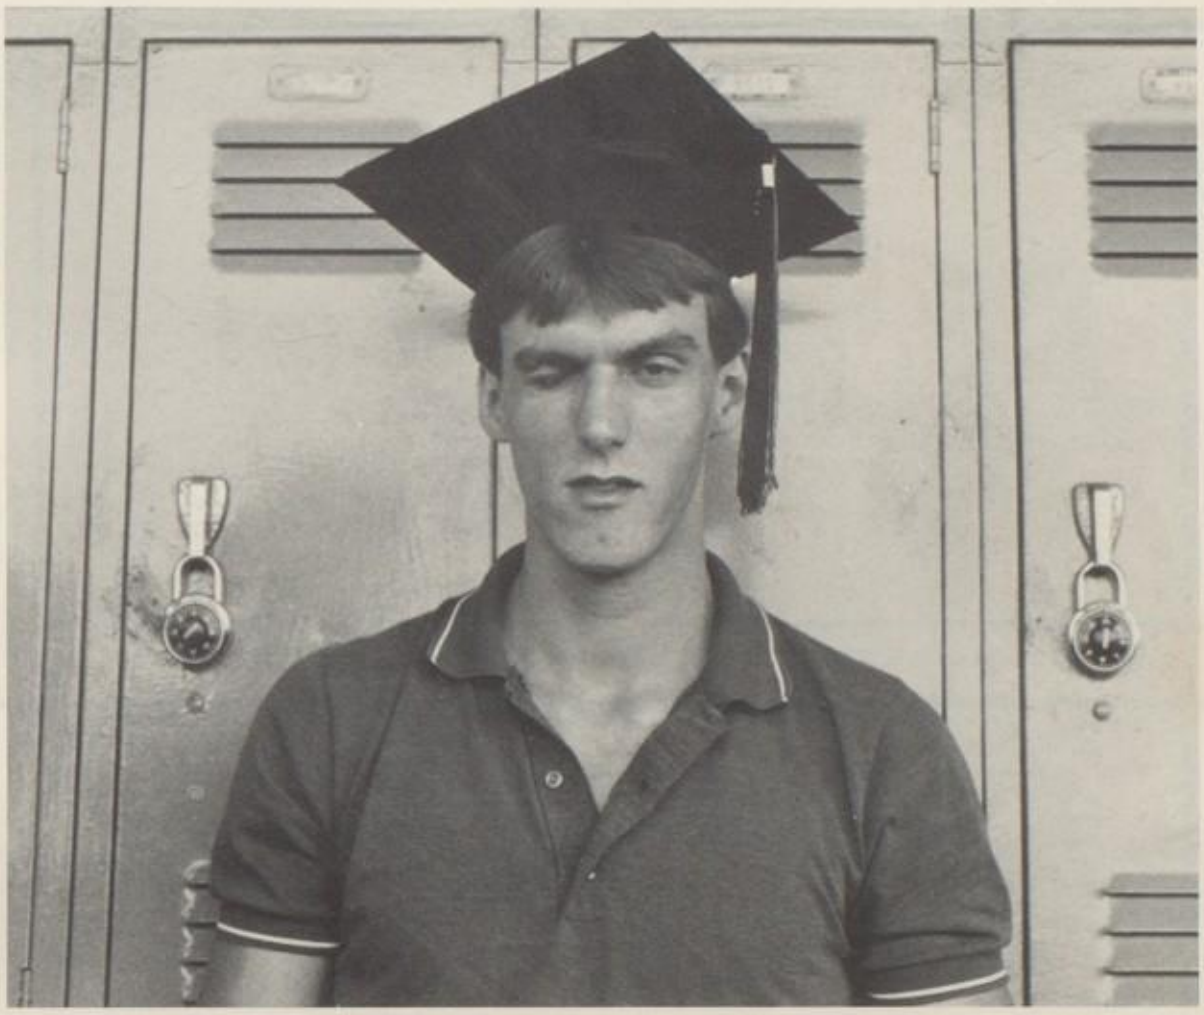
— David Johnson

As students, we are in the springtime of our lives, and our celebrations are as varied and colorful as our personalities. However, we anticipate equally the one rite that stands above all others — Summer Vacation!

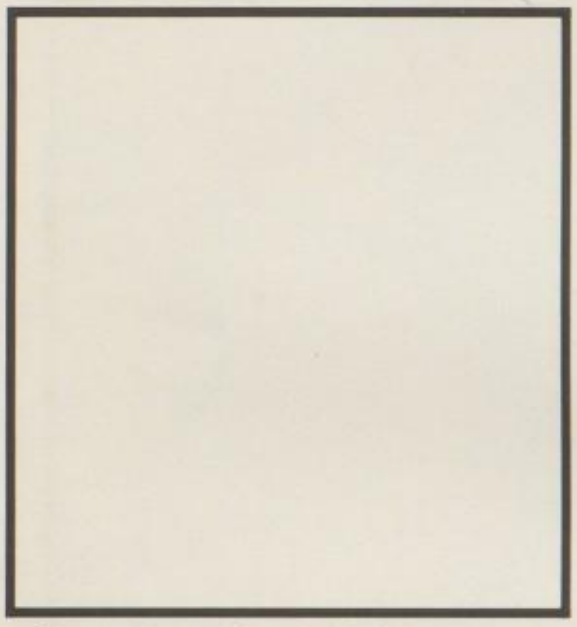


"Aye, ma-tees, it's yer fav'rite pirate, Capt. Hook." (P. Touchton)

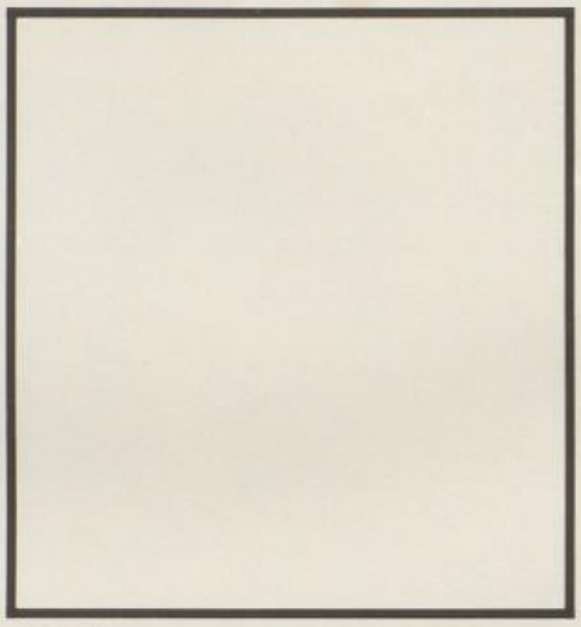
Jimmy (Russ) tells Randy (Bush) "You wear the tassel on the left before you graduate."

Spring fever attacks Scott (Litchfield) and Patti (Smith).

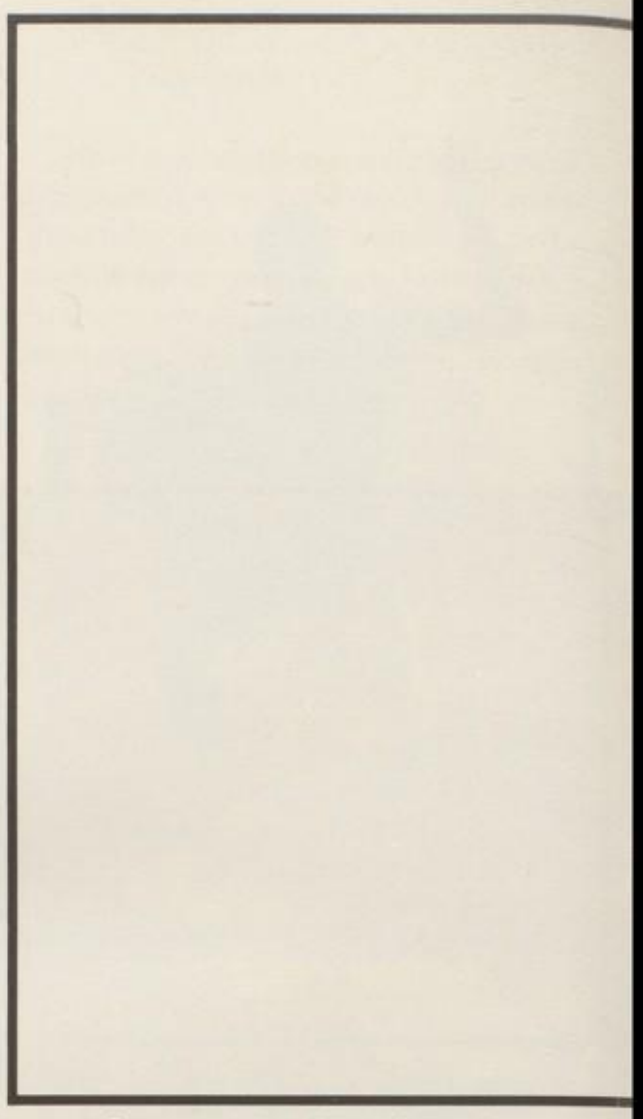
The Unorganized Organization



The president speaks on evils of organization.



The VP demonstrates his ability to avoid work.



Our first president, Dudley Dolittle.

Group shot. Not pictured: All six members.

What is an organization? The word implies that there is a group, put together in an orderly fashion to serve some sort of purpose.

One organization at PCHS stands out beneath all of the rest. This organization holds a meeting every February 29 behind the concession stand in the W.F. Edwards stadium. It has no purpose, no charter, no officers, and no sponsors.

Membership is not required in order to attend the meetings, nor are the members expected to attend! Since there are no officers, everyone presides at all the meetings. Dues are paid in jelly beans or anything else of value.

In a world where the pace is hectic, the work hard, the pressure sometimes unbearable, it's nice to have a club such as this one around!

Special Events

What's so "special" about Special Events? — sharing these experiences with our friends. This makes them extra-special and each event is a celebration unto itself. The occasion isn't nearly as important as just being together. The planning, implementing and enjoying of these events puts "fun" into high school. They are the times made special by the coming together of people who have a zest for the celebration of life.

Luz Sanchez

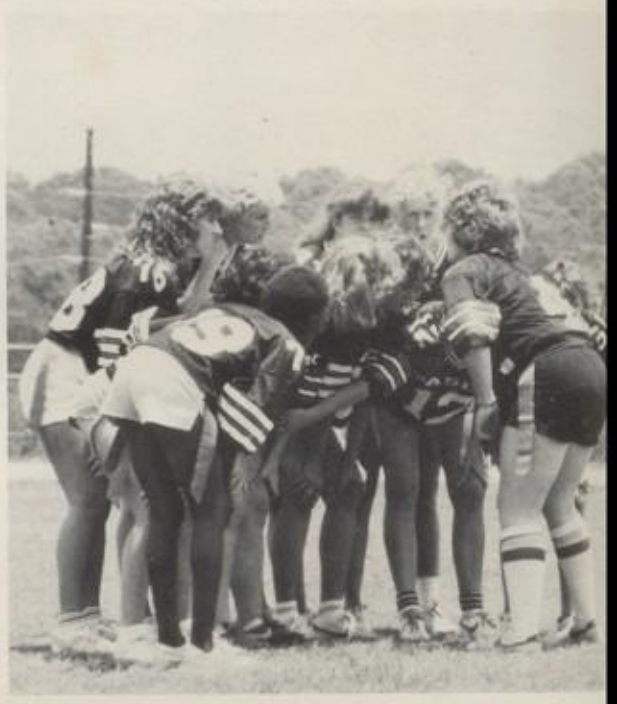
Punt Pass and Primp

Junior "Jocks" masquerade as junior "Jills."

The girls pitted their skills against one another in fierce competition, no one knowing who the victor would be. These pretty, petite young ladies as viewed from the stands, moved gracefully across the gridiron. Half-time at the Homecoming Football game? No, this was 1983 Powder Puff Football!

The girls took hold of this chance to prove that the guys weren't the only pigskin enthusiasts in town! The game went scoreless but was exciting anyway. There was also plenty of excitement on the sidelines as those rowdy "cheerleaders" entertained the fans with creative chants, water balloon fights and ... you name it! While perhaps lacking the grace of the Swashbucklers, they made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in finesse.

"They do this a lot on Monday Night Football."



Anybody heard a good joke lately?"

"Hey, gang, the view is much better from up here!"

Every "girl" needs to know how to protect "herself."

Led by Coach Champion the spirited seniors burst onto the field.

Yay! The seniors have a first down.

The fans are more interested in the cheerleaders' antics than the game!

S. Morris and J. McCabe have eyes only for each other.

"Would you like to dance with me?" asks Mindy (Ulmer).

Kathy Mancinelli finds pleasure in Jeff Jerer's company.

Everyone gets down and boogies!

Alyse (Dewitt) imitates a new dance.

Kathy Beaumont ignores her camera-shy companions.

R. Bessenger prefers slow dancing.

J. Wisniewski tells R. Urban, "You look great!"

This dancing will wear you out," comments R. Freyser.

A Wee Bit O'Ireland

Any holiday is a great excuse for a dance and St. Patrick's Day was no exception! Shamrocks, leprechauns, and green everything decorated the walls of the cafeteria — turning it into a "wee bit o'Ireland."

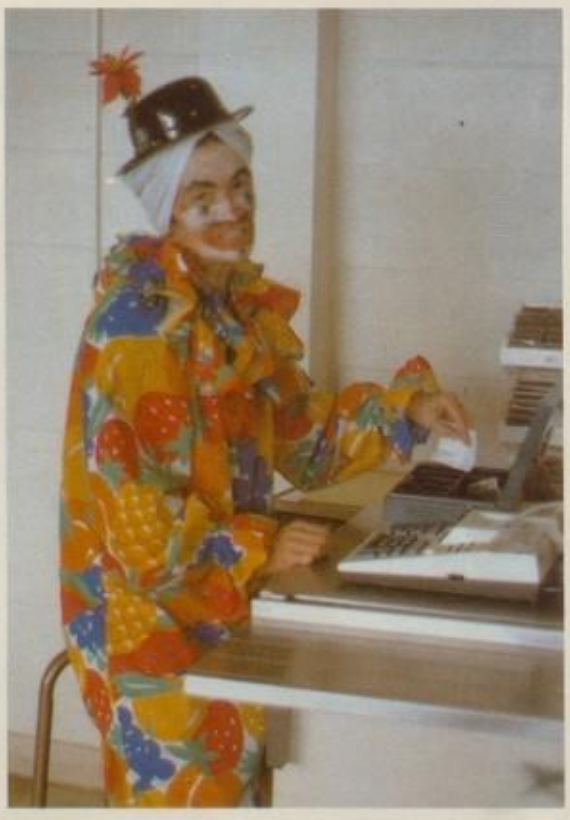
The crowd was small, but that allowed for more freedom of movement. And move we did, as DJ Todd Donronoff played our favorite selections.

Aida Meza and friends "get on down" with the music.

Bedsheets have never looked better! (M. Wilks, K. Sumner, L. Oliva, T. Dorsett, K. Williams, J. Gentry, R. Jones, K. Poole, and T. Kassabaum.)

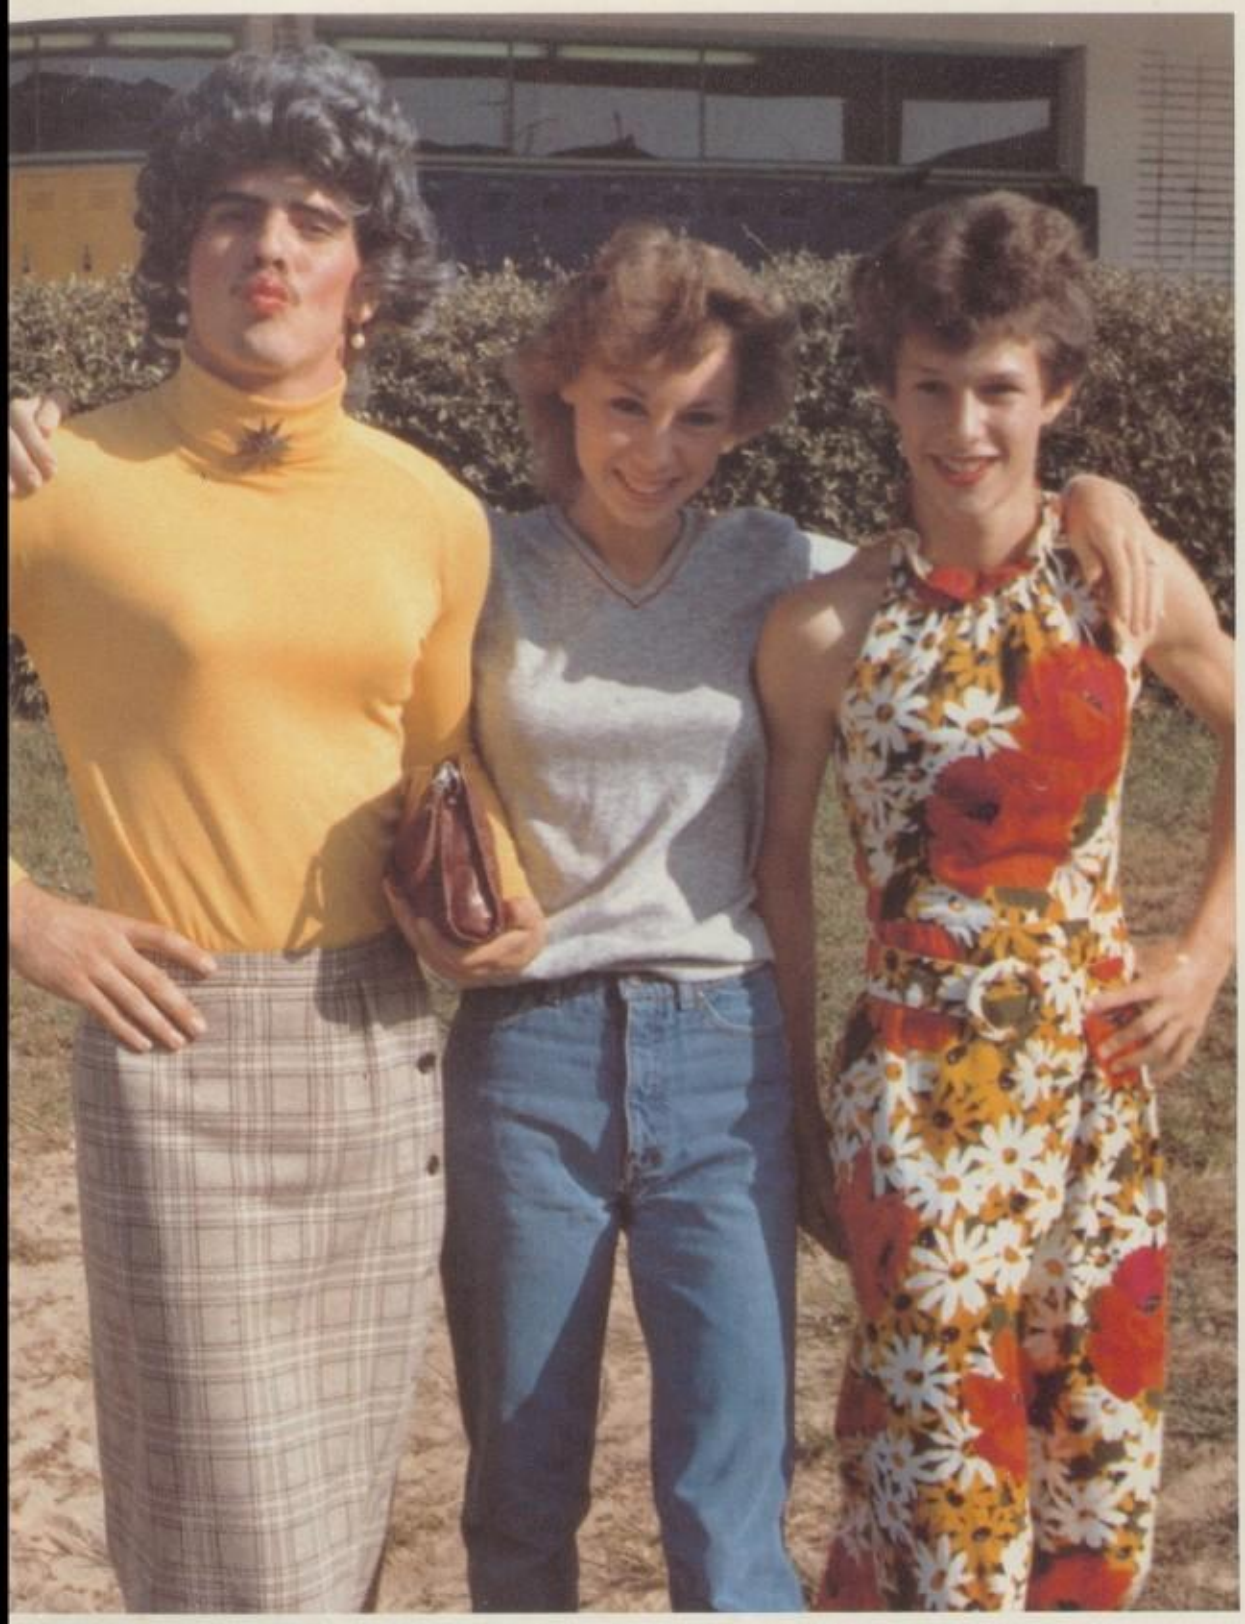
Kim Poole prepares posters for the Homecoming parade.

Punk Rock is not for the faint-hearted! (M. Hassell, S. Carrillo, A. Hines, and A. Barrientos).



Mrs. Cook clowns around on Halloween Day.

Let's go Hawaiian with FBLA!



Toni Musser presents Miss Land O'Lakes (W. Sickler) and Miss Pasco Comp. (M. Sledge).

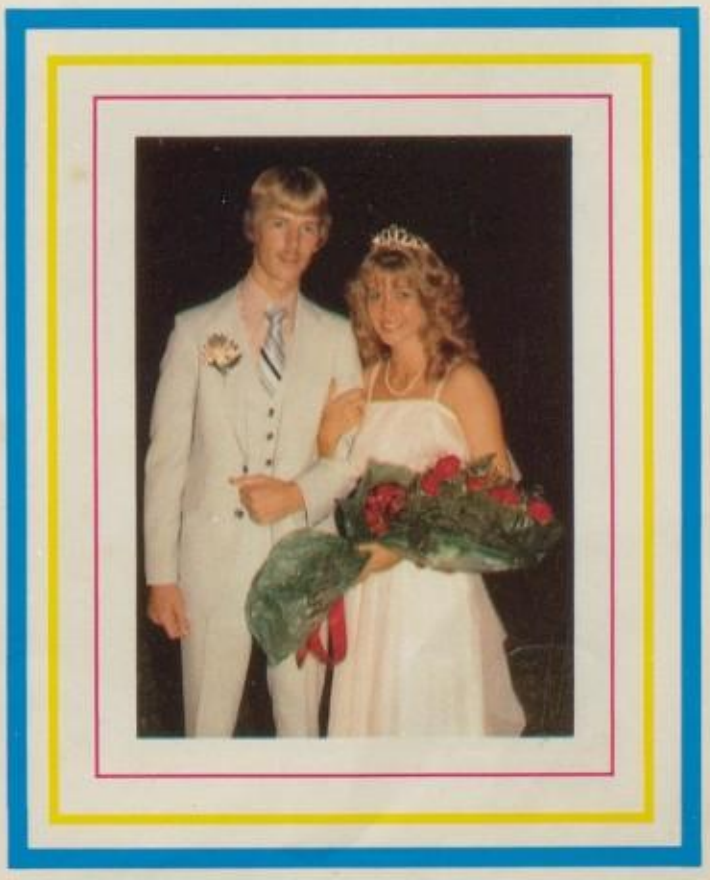
A Week in Paradise

"Paradise" was the theme of Homecoming 1982. It officially began on an unseasonably warm Monday, October 25, with Punk Rock Day. Heavy make-up and mini skirts dominated the students attire, and we saw a side of our friends we hadn't seen before. Toga Day took us back to ancient Greece and Hawaiian Day gave our campus a "touch of the tropics." On Halloween Day we had a chance to use our imaginations, and we ended dress-up week with the traditional Red and Black Day.

Friday at 10:00, we gathered in the square for the Pep Rally. Competition for the spirit stick was stiff; signs and banners from all the classes were posted everywhere and balloons, confetti and cheers filled the air. The high-spirited Juniors prevailed.

At 12:00, the students were dismissed for the parade. Everyone went downtown or to the driving range to put the final touches on their floats. The Band of Pirates gave an outstanding performance, and HOSA won first place with their float.

JV and Varsity cheerleaders combine talents and spirit to build crowd enthusiasm.



. . . the Spotlight Flashed . . .

The loss of the game that night was somewhat of a disappointment, but the evening was redeemed by the halftime show and later the dance. At halftime, the homecoming court was escorted through a torchlit path to the center of the field. Each couple was introduced to the audience. As the lights dimmed and the spotlight flashed back and forth over the court, the emcee, keeping us in suspense, finally announced: "And the 1982 Pasco Comprehensive High School Homecoming Queen is . . . Miss Debbie Meyer!" The audience cheered as a stunned but ecstatic Debbie received her crown.

"Smiles are contagious as we celebrate the annual rite of Homecoming!" (Dawn DeVoss, Samira Jackson)

The "Wicked Witch of the West" masquerades as Kristi Sumner.

Mary Jo (Cotter) auditions for Hugh Hefner's Playboy club.

Trae Sellers daydreams of being marooned on an island.

"Father" Hays counsels a parishioner."

There's no question where Scott's (Litchfield) heart is.

Lisa Davis and Tammy Dorsett wait for a phone call from the Follies.

The Big Red listens intently as Coach Herndon reminds them that, tonight, practice must become performance.

Now we know why the wolf pursues Red Riding Hood! (Karen Williams)

THE CANDIDATES: Debbie Musser, Lisa Davis, Queen Debbie Meyer, Christine Rollins, Yvette Johnson, Kim Boltin.

A radiant Debbie smiles her thanks to the crowd.

. . . a Memorable End.

After the game, everyone headed to the cafeteria for the dance. A Q105 DJ provided the music. It was fantastic! Everyone had a great time doing the latest dance steps or creating their own. As the evening wound to a close, we drifted homeward bringing to a memorable end our week in Paradise.

"Education's expensive but I'm worth it," muses Kim (Boltin).

Leslee Clark and her companions request brochures from several schools.

North Carolina Wesleyan attracts Stacey Muck.

Debbie D'Water finds information and friendship at this table.

"It's hard to make a choice that affects my whole future," says Diane (Tinsley).

Carrie Nereim says, "I'm not prepared for today, much less for tomorrow!"

The West Georgia representative answers questions for Kathy Mancinelli.

Andrew Sampson skims through the sports section of a college yearbook.

What Should I Do With My Life?

Drive a truck? Design a computer? Administer oxygen? Plow a field? The choices are staggering. What should I do with my life?

Student services assists us with these decisions not only through individualized testing but also by providing Career Day each year. This year's Career Day had the distinction of being well-balanced with representatives from vocational schools, colleges and universities, and the armed forces. For two hours we looked at catalogs, spoke to career personnel, filled out applications, and explored our interests. Some came away confused; others committed. It was a time to begin thinking seriously about tomorrow.

Sophomores . . . This One's for You

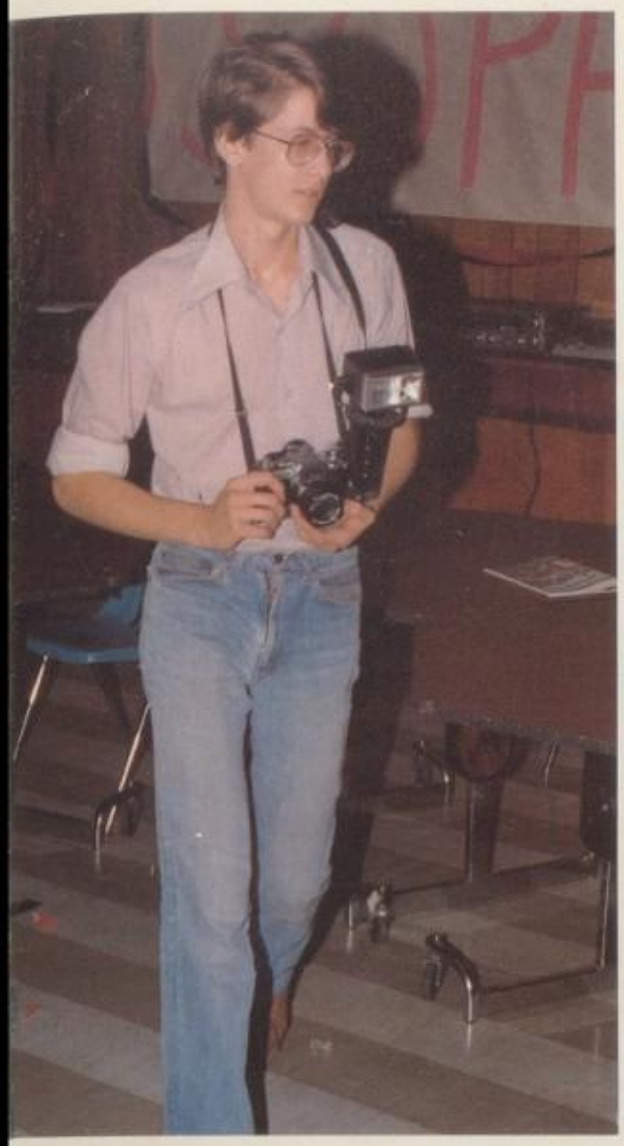
"We'd like to welcome you to the annual Sophomore Dance, and that's from everyone except the sophomores because this one's for you!" announced Eddie Rice as the evening was beginning to pick up. There was fun, friendship, music and dancing as a large number of students attended the first big social event of the year. The Welcome Sophomore Dance not only welcomes the new arrivals to the high school, but it also gives the "upperclassmen" a chance to meet them. Then, too, it's fun to wear some of the latest fashions such as knickers and mini skirts, and to exchange dance steps while listening to some of the newer hit songs. Student council members volunteered their time to DJ for the evening.

A. Herrmann wonders if that was John's foot (McDougall) she stepped on.

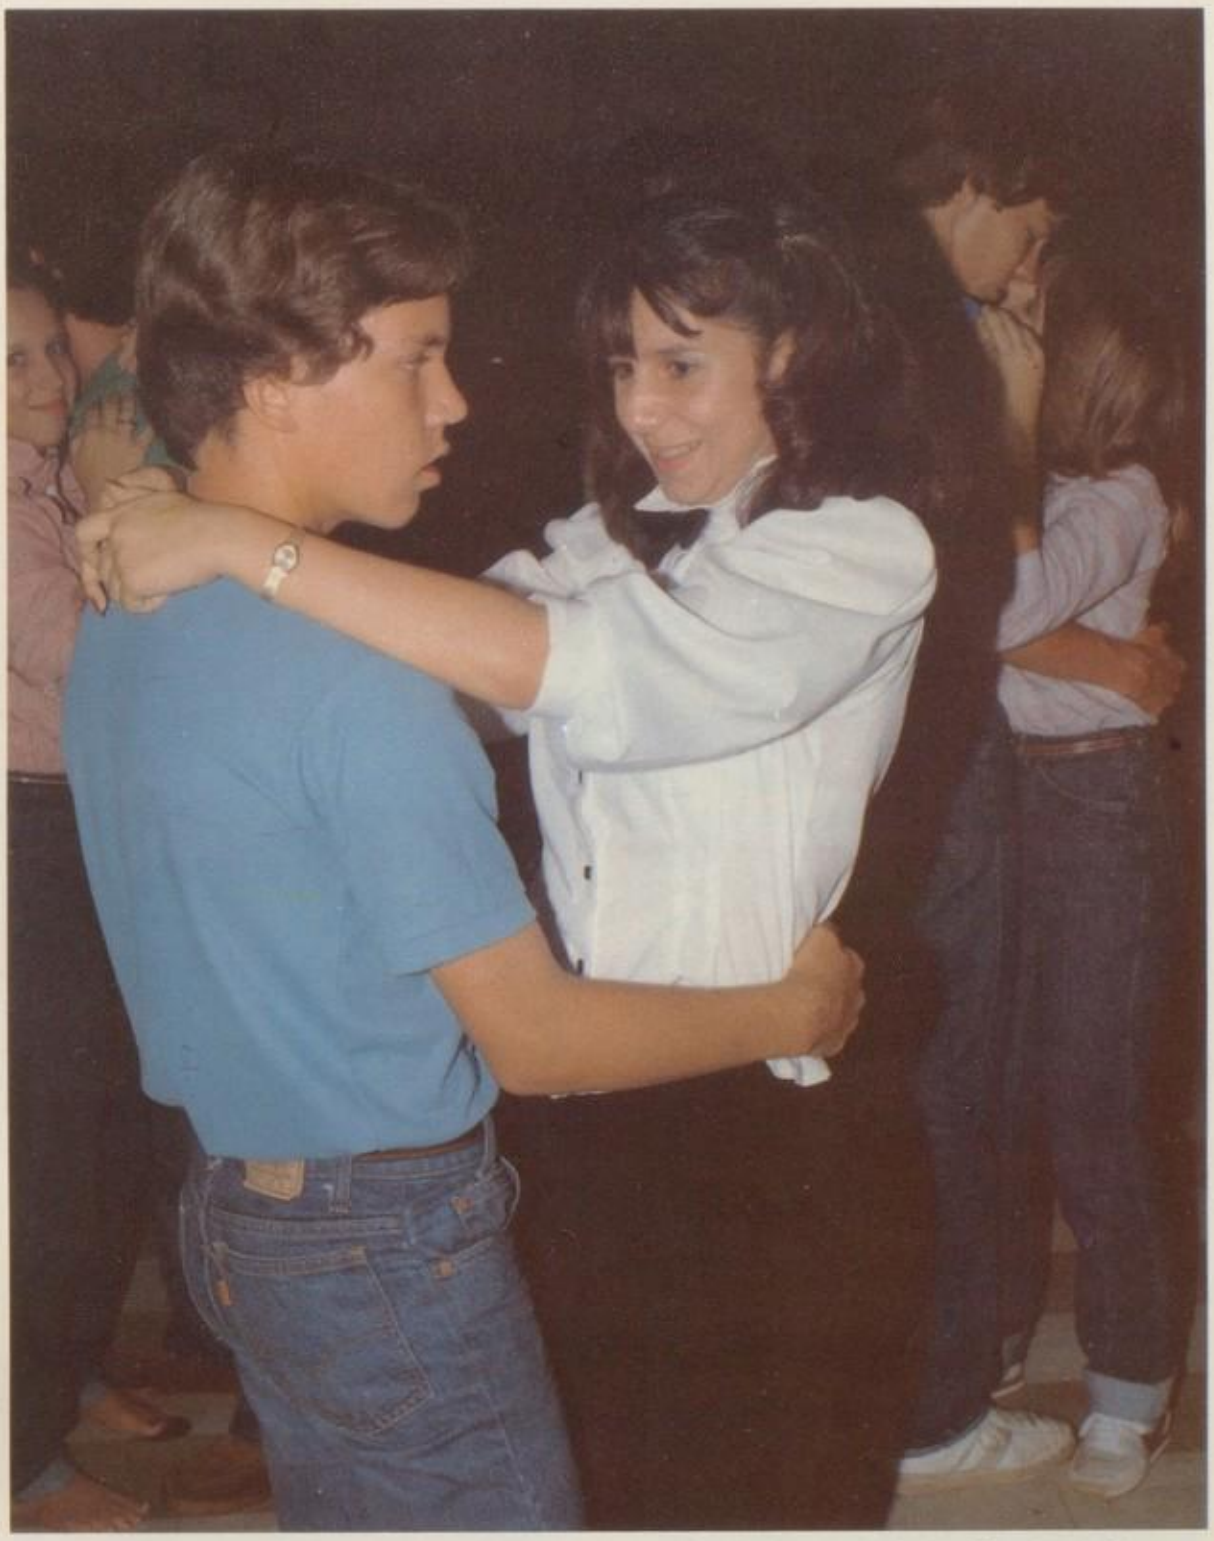
Mike Wilks and John Hays are not your typical wallflowers.

Tami Barnes shouts, "No! I'm not ready yet! Stop the camera!"

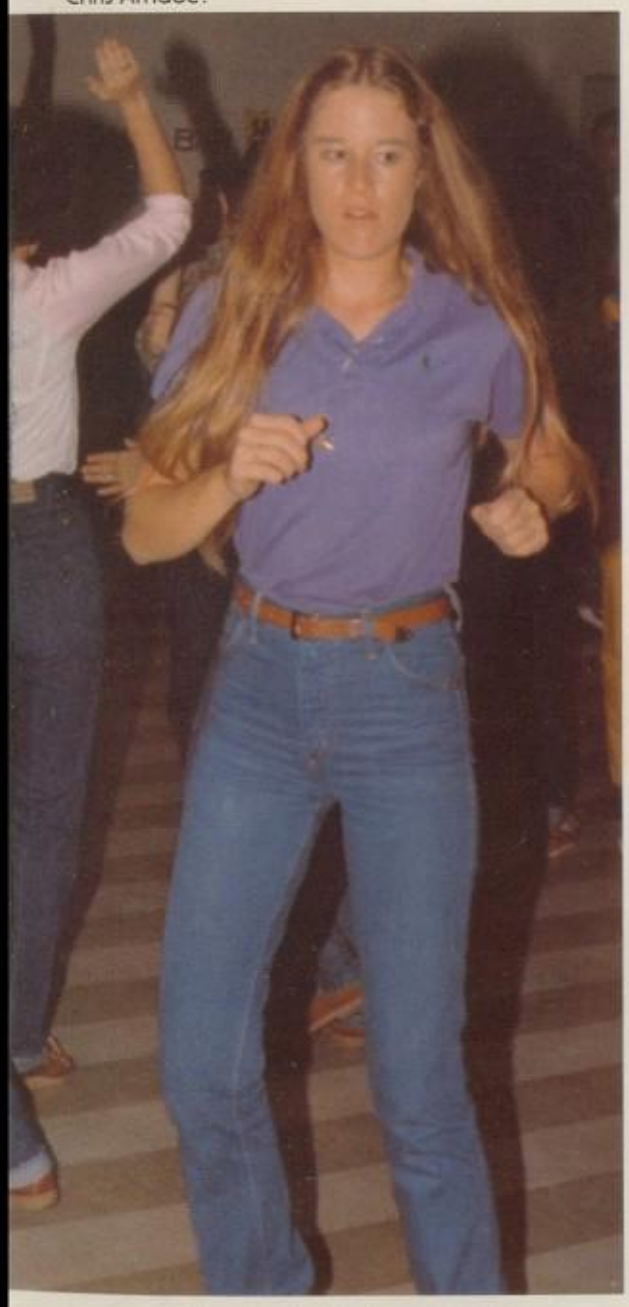
"Maybe we're too old for this! We had much more fun as sophomores."



There's no "changing partners" for photographer Chris Arnade.



Trae Sellers and Karen Culligan share a quiet dance while Glenn Piersall and Donna Tear share a kiss.



Sissy Sanders lost her partner!

Todd Dronoff and Brenda Gregory jam-out to the music.

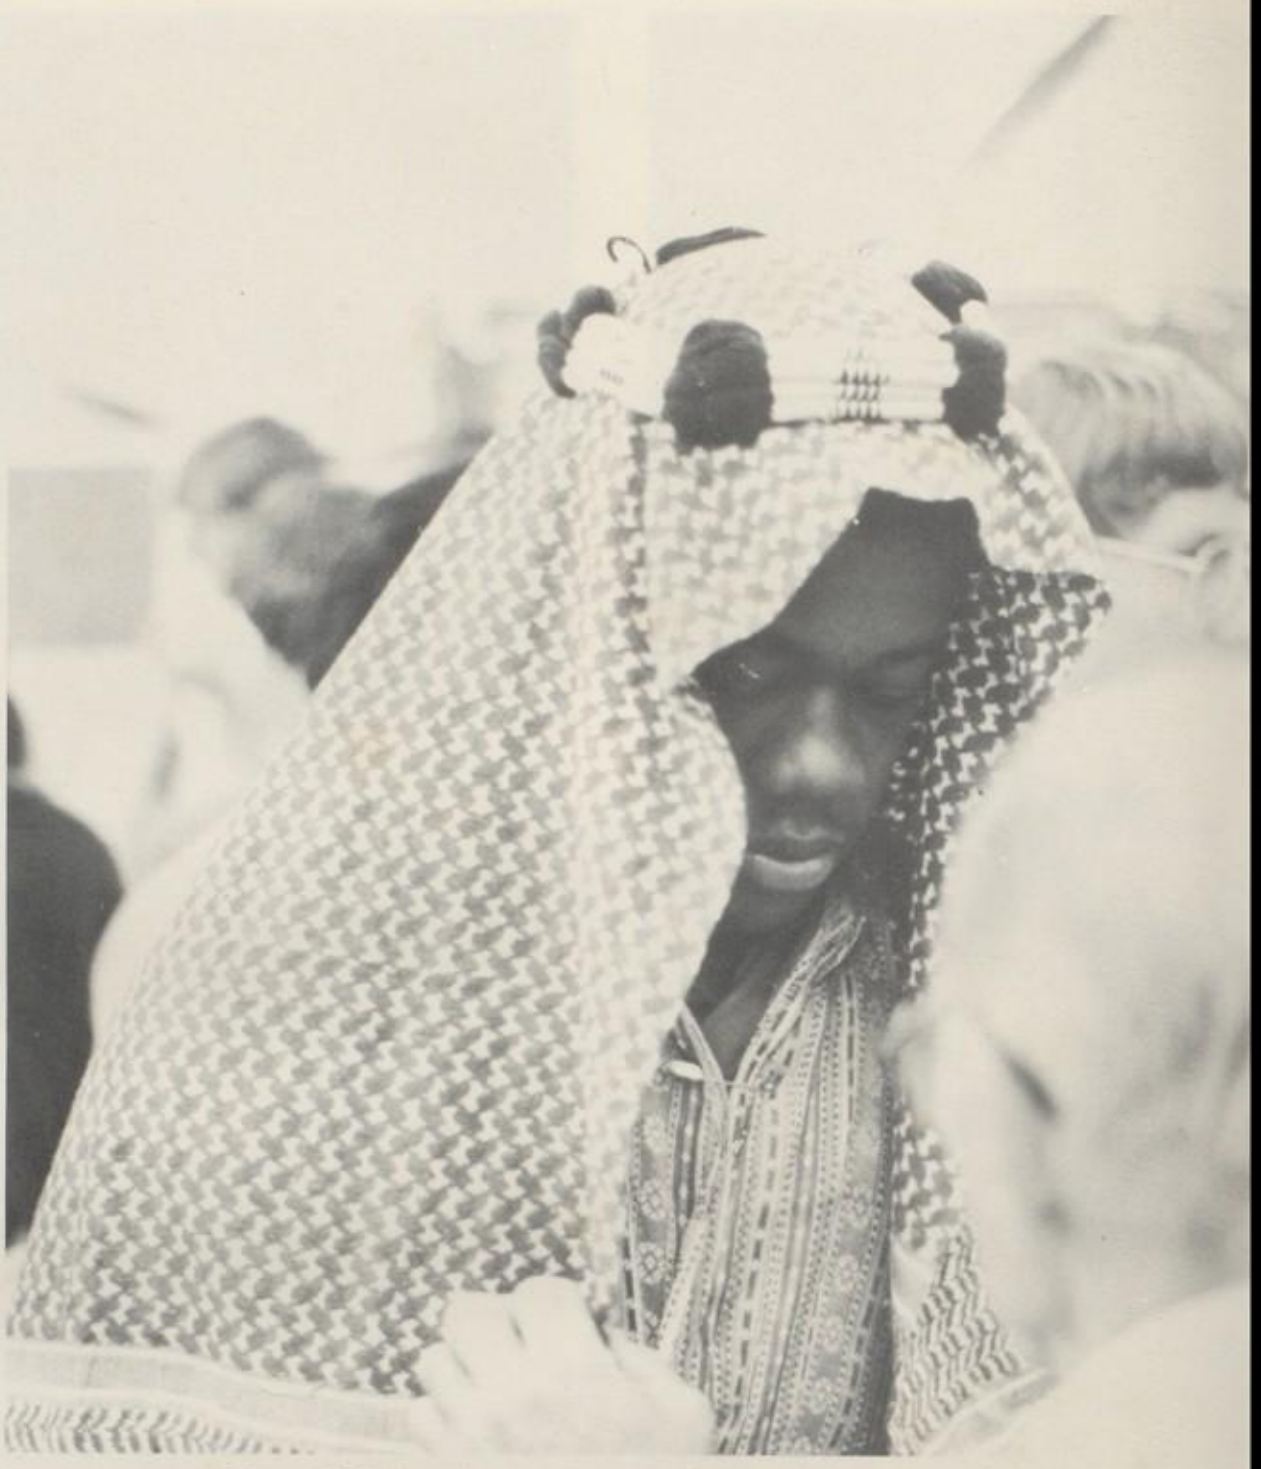
Christmas spirit and cheer filled the brightly decorated new Music Suite as the Foreign Language classes presented their third annual Foreign Language Christmas Festival. All the foreign language students participated in sharing the cultures and customs of other nations with invited guests.

The PCHS faculty and staff and approximately 150 Honor Roll students were invited to share the festivities. The French, German, and Spanish clubs represented their cultures with native costumes and traditional foods. To share the holiday spirit, each group presented versions of popular Christmas carols in French, German, and Spanish. Some carols were also sung in English so the whole audience could sing along. Dances were performed by some members of the French and Spanish clubs, and humor was added to the festivities with an original Christmas skit presented by other French students.

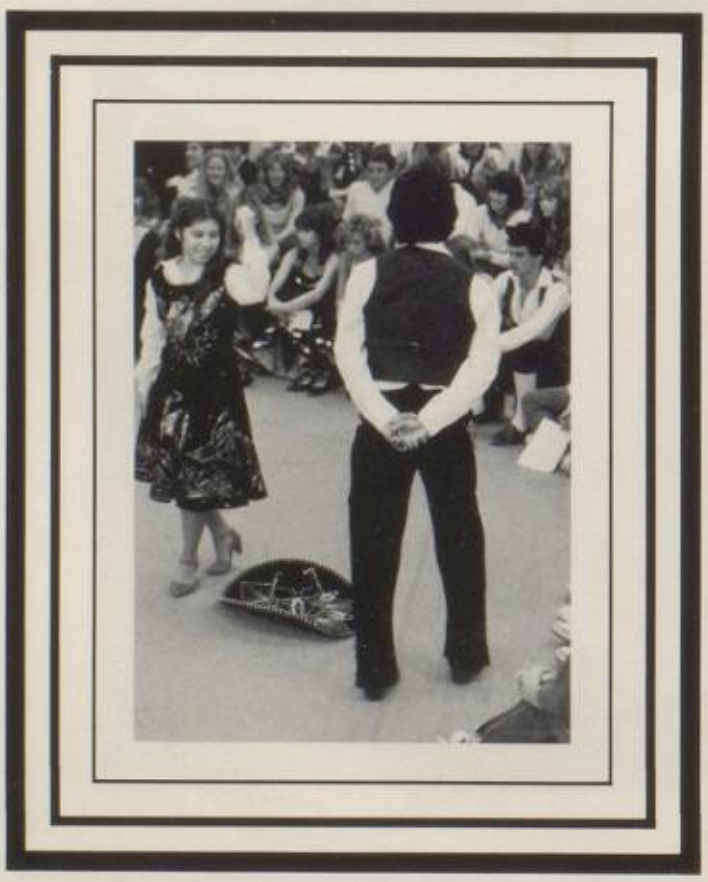
At the end of the celebration, guests were invited to sample the wide assortment of international foods prepared by the students. Everyone enjoyed all the presentations but were especially pleased with the delicious food.

A special "Thank you" is given to Ms. Karen LaBell, Ms. Doris Souto, Spanish Club Sponsor, and Mrs. Dasha Weiskopf, French and German Club Sponsor, for their help and guidance in conducting another successful Christmas celebration.

Sally Guillen
French Club Secretary



Eugene (Felder) easily passes for one of the original "Three Kings."



Santa's helper (Lisa Reynolds) gives Santa (Dwayne Dennard) her Christmas list.

Exciting foreign foods tempt the appetite.

George Marshall salutes the German class.

Sir Lancelot (Randy Bush) and Guinevere (Lenore Burnsed) are royal visitors to the foreign festival.

Accompanied by Ms. LaBell, Ms. Souto's Spanish class shares Christmas carols.

Prince Charming (Mike German) interviews festival visitors from far-away places.

Christine Rollins is a second-generation German.

Mrs. Weiskopf directs the French chorus.

Mary Ann Blackwood shares her dancing talents on pointe.

Donna Tear and Glenn Peirsall are in a world of their own.

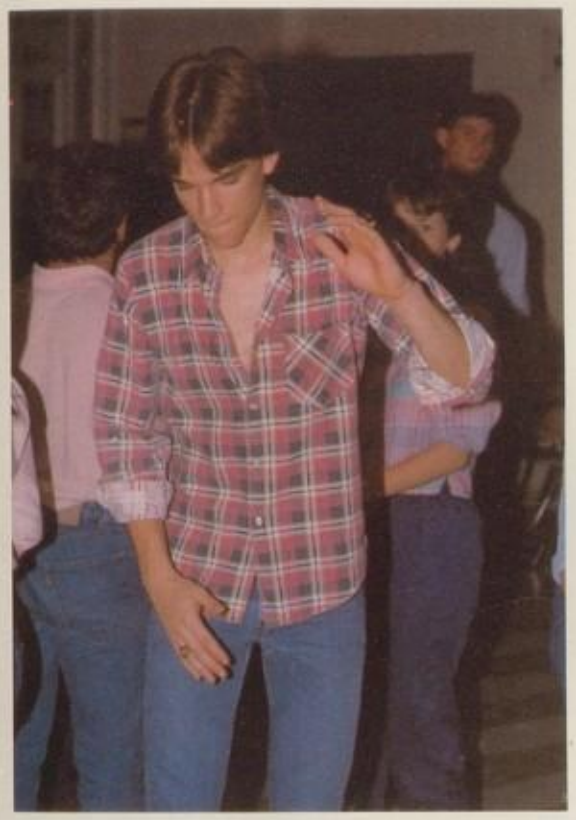
"Out of this mess, I create music!" exclaims DJ Todd Dronoff.

"He's all mine tonight!" claims Mary Jo (Cotter) as she and her date begin the evening with pictures.

Clyfton Champion and Samira Jackson dance "a little bit country, a little bit rock and roll."

"We put some Pasco into everything we do!"

Patricia Brown enjoys a "Ladies' Choice."



"Aw shucks, I lost my wedding ring!" moans Todd (Piersall)

A Little Bit Country

Sadie Hawkins "83" was a departure in some ways from years past. The first change was that it was moved from its usual February date to one at the end of March. This postponement allowed the Junior class additional time to plan this very popular fund-raising dance. Another change was to choose our DJ from among our own student body. Junior Todd Dronoff and Senior David Johnson did a fantastic job with the sound system!

The evening began for many with a trip to Mrs. Bessenger's room, "The Chapel," where Bryn-Alan was taking traditional "wedding" photographs. From there, most couples, migrated to the dance floor or a bale of hay. Colorful calico decorations turned what was the cafeteria only the day before into a homespun world of soft lights and music. Many couples wore matching shirts — the typical western plaid or more unconventional button down oxfords and Izods.

Square-dancing, this isn't!

Mark McCabe and Clyfton Champion lead the girls through "You Dropped a Bomb on Me."

"Thanks, guys, but I'll wait for my date." (S. Jackson)

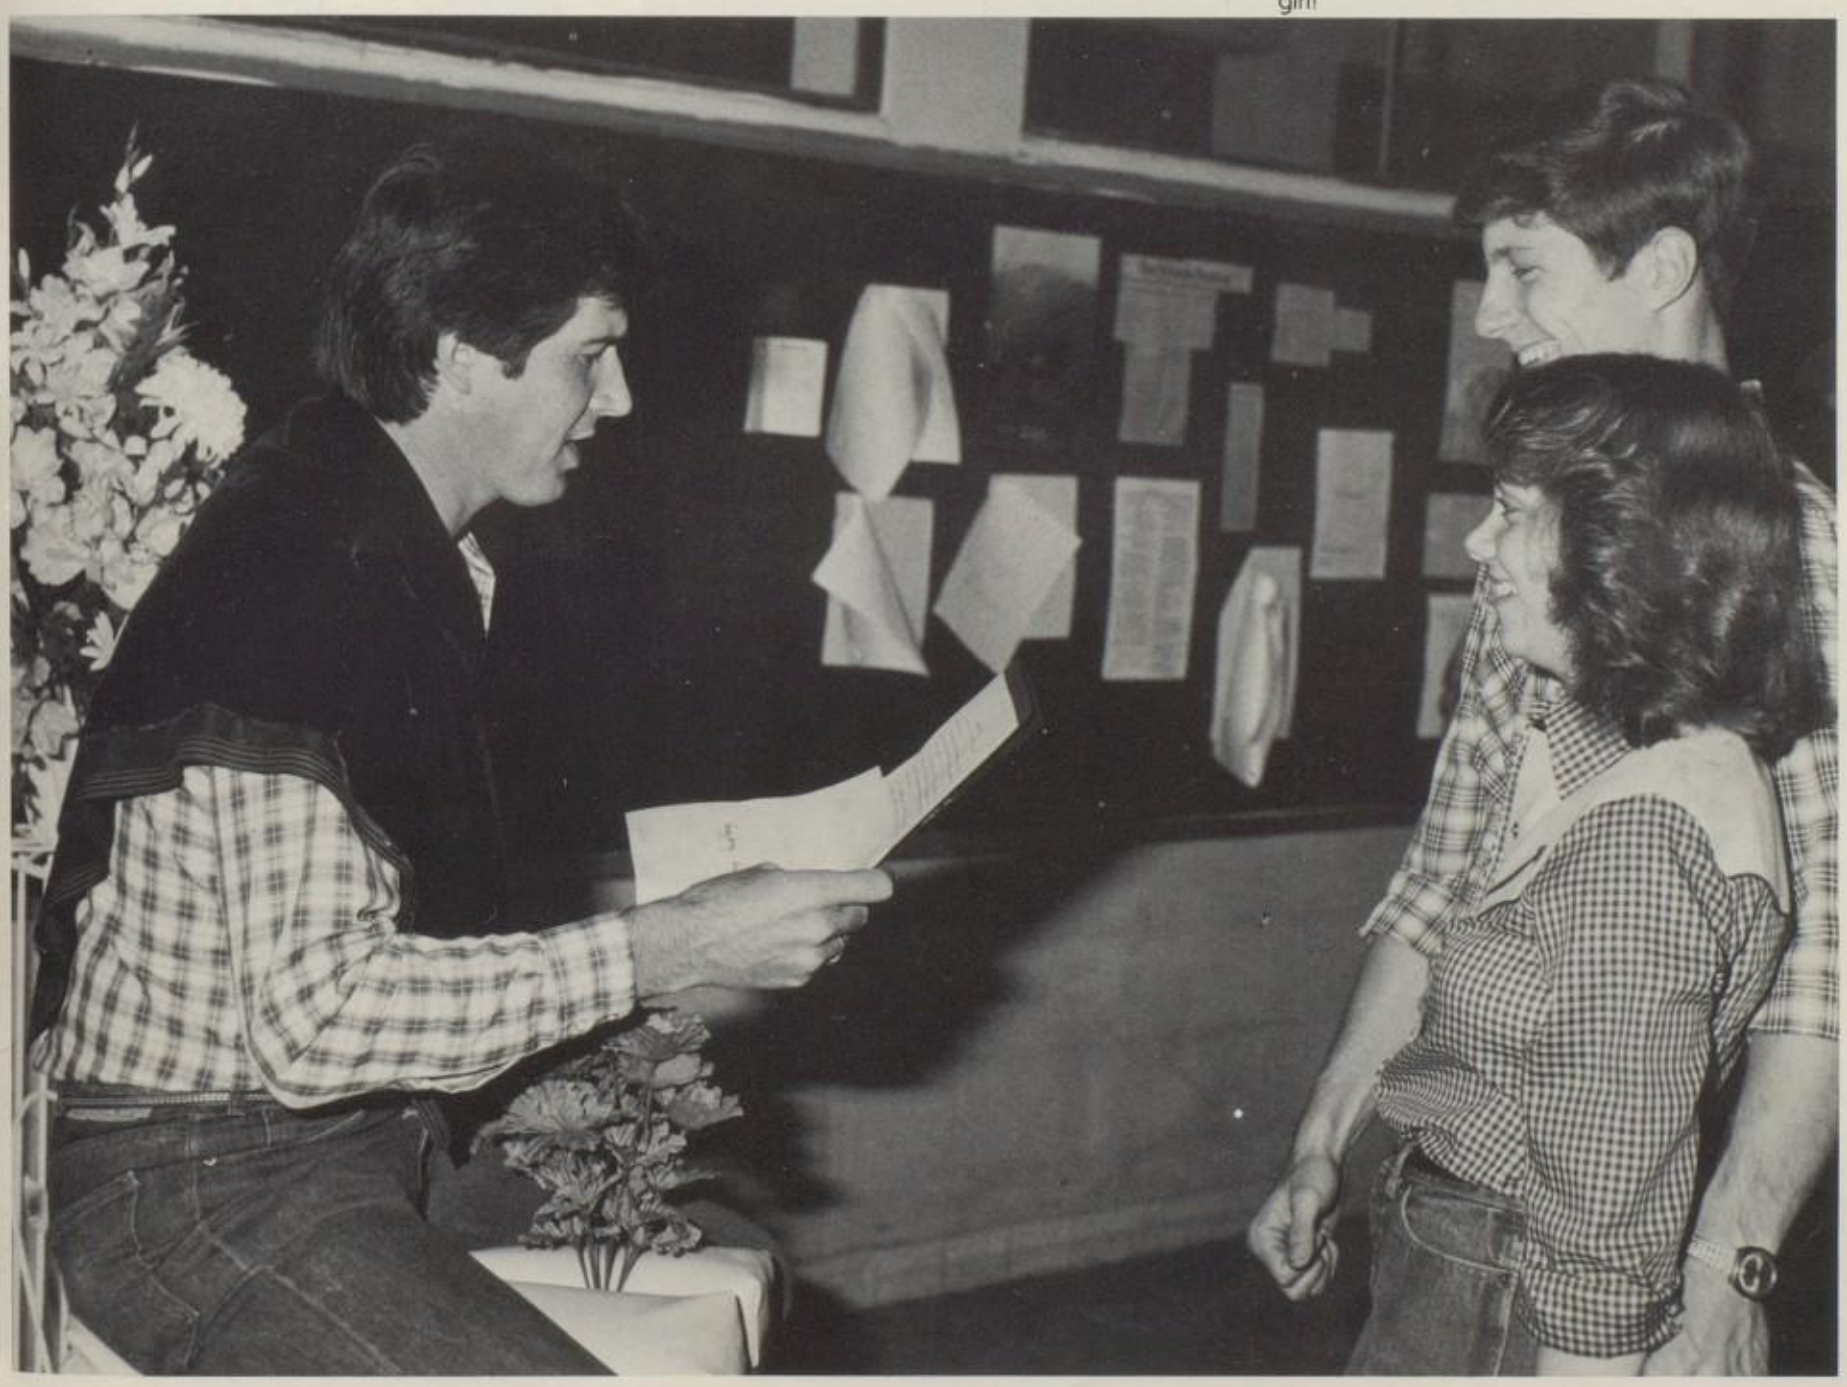
"But, Randy, I don't know how to ride!" (R. Dean, S. Pearson)

Warren competes with the music for Ashlie's atte
— and gets it.

After a few dances, couples began to steal away to "Marrying Sam" — thus getting into the real spirit of Sadie Hawkins. Larry Boyett made each bride promise not to badger her new husband when he went out with the guys, and in return the guys had to promise only one night a week "out with the boys." The vows were sealed with a kiss, certificate and genuine ring! Meanwhile, back at the dance everyone was "Getting down" to the music. Eleven o'clock came all to soon for those at Sadie Hawkins'83.

1983 Li'l Abner (Brian Jarrett) and Daisy Mae (Gail Gosselin).

Joey (Tedder) has the flowers; now he needs the girl!



"Do you, Randy, promise to ask Diane's permission before you go out with the boys?" (Diane Tinsley and Randy Bentley).

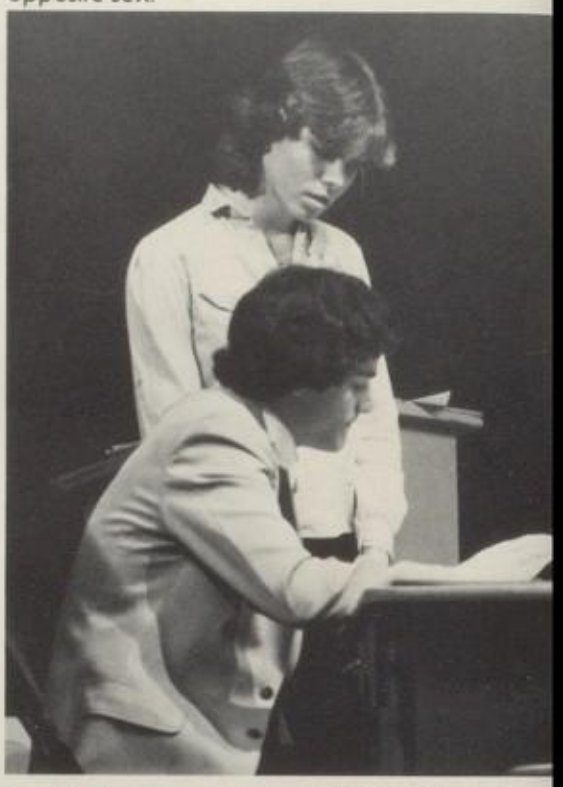
Up the Down Staircase

"Up the Down Staircase" is the story of an overcrowded, understaffed New York City school with problems that are sometimes hilarious, sometimes heart-breaking. Underneath the comedy, there's a real concern on the part of the faculty and students to teach and be taught. The characters, the situations, could be "Anywhere, USA," and as the Society of Performing Arts presented the play, we became the characters and our audience identified with us as they relived their school experiences.

"Mr. McHabe to all faculty — Diligence, accuracy and promptness are essential." (L. Freijo)

Attractive Linda's (M. Hassell) whole focus is on th opposite sex.

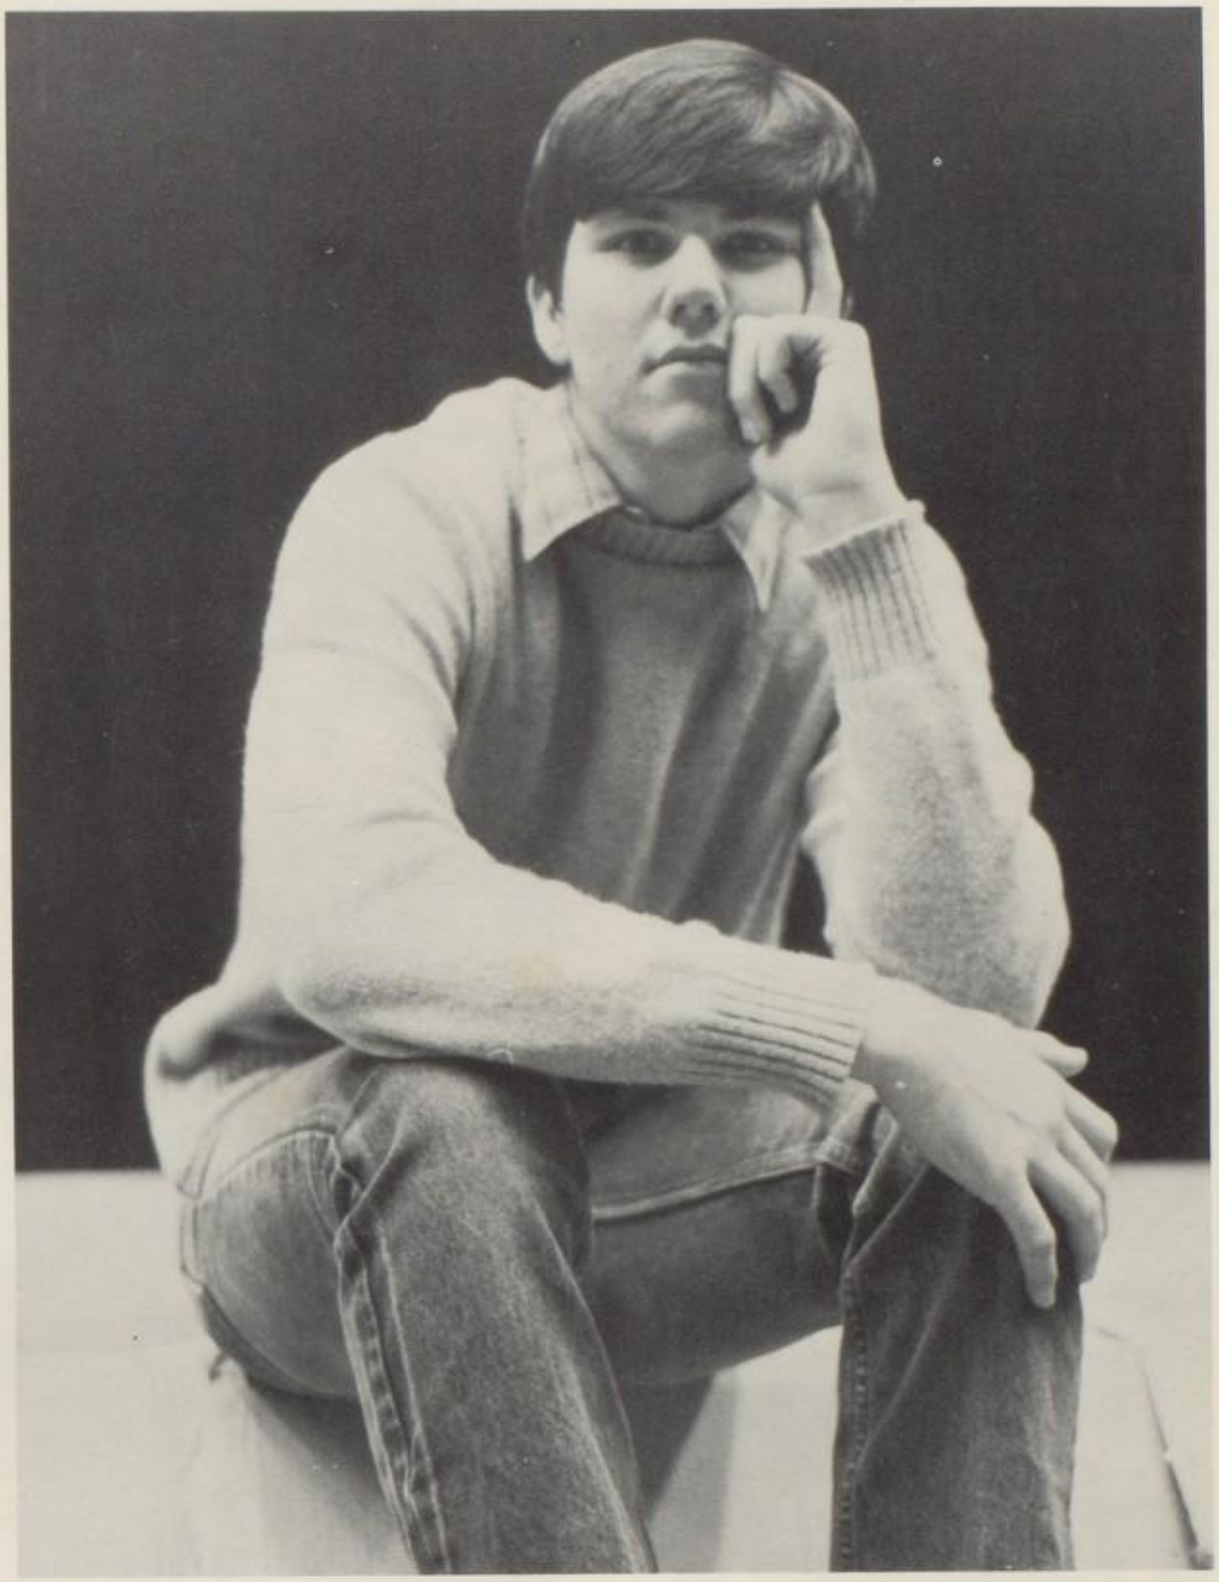
Ellen (K. Bolton) and Sylvia (L. Reynolds) keep in touch by mail.



Paul (C. Kern) corrects Alice's (A. Hines) love letter

Joe (M. Jordan) to Sylvia: "You may fool them, but you don't fool me. You're even phonier than the others!"

J. Ward says, "I gave my heart to broadway and ended up in the riggings."



Mark Jordan hardly seems the Joe Ferone type — contemptuous, rude and flunking every subject.

"Attention please. This is your principal, Dr. Maxwell Clarke." (L. Christopher)

Bea (R. Jones) to Sylvia (L. Reynolds): "No one is rated unsatisfactory unless certified looney."

It's a Fair Day

The smells — cotton candy, candied apples, popcorn; the sights — side shows, exhibits, the midway; the sounds — laughter, music, animal voices — all bring to memory the 1983 Pasco County Fair.

The fair was the perfect time for everyone to participate in the many activities available or just to wander around, relax and have fun!

Both young and old were given the opportunity to share their talents in the numerous exhibits. Community and school organizations worked hard, putting in many volunteer hours to gather materials.

During fair week many events took place . . . a parade introduced the candidates for Miss Pasco County, exhibits were judged, youth groups competed and everyone enjoyed the midway!

After the fair ribbons were awarded, the events of the week were climaxed by the crowning of a new Miss Pasco County. PCHS was represented in the competition by Kim Boltin, Dana Culliton, Rhonda Jones, Toni Musser and Diane Tinsley.

Toni Musser waves to an admiring crowd in her first public appearance as a Miss Pasco County contestant.

Laura Devine and Tammy Boyett share the thrill of the Scrambler.

"This is fun!" laughs Rhonda Jones.

Clowns, children, and animals are perfect ingredients for a successful parade.

Our Band of Pirates captures another "first place" title.

Billy (Corwin) and David (Bell) relax between rides.

Talented Dana (Culliton) sings "Sweet Darlin'."

Confidently, Theresa Gilliard selects her prize before she plays.

"Hail, hail, the gang's all here!"

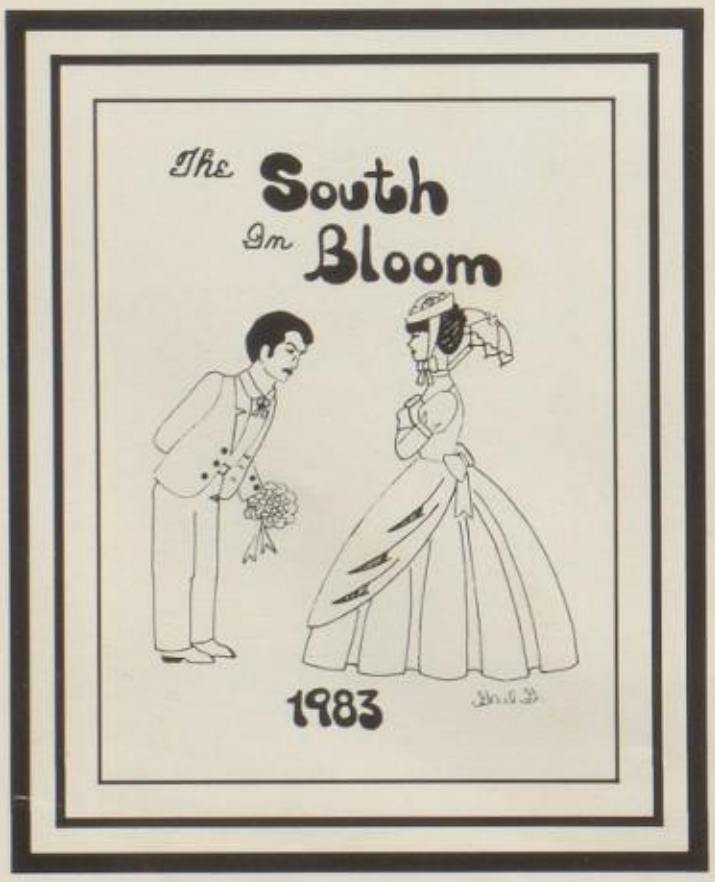
Courageous Kim (Boltin) takes the longest walk of her life!

The South in Bloom

The South in Bloom — a fitting title for a lovely prom and an evening of wonderful memories.

The veranda of Whispering Oaks Country Club was a flurry of activity as the guests arrived to the music of "White Raven" and the lingering scent of magnolia and confederate jasmine. After signing the guest register, each person was presented a dance card in the tradition of the Old South. Prom servers wearing full, ruffled dresses and picture hats or debonair suits and bow-ties circulated among the guests, bearing welcome trays of refreshing drinks. It was a scene reminiscent of the movie "Gone with the Wind."

Prom King and Queen, Ricky Smalley and Karen Williams.



M. Roenicke and T. Gude sign the guest book upon arrival.

Dance booklets and southern hospitality are dispensed by Tammy Boyett.

D. Kreusch, L. Gray, B. Cain, and D. Carson pause for a quick snapshot.

L. Oliva and M. German select a poolside pose.

Julie Newsome adjusts Karen's tiara.

A parasol is the perfect accessory in this setting.

"White Raven" provides many styles of music for remembrance.

Kristy Sumner and Southern Charm are synonymous.

Prom servers: Alyse DeWitt, Trae Sellers, Michael Sledge, John Hays, Tracey Rachel. Seated: Michelle Barthle, Allison Beaumont.

J. Gentry and B. Stancil are "Hooked on Classics."

K. Hiller and D. Delgado wait for friends to arrive.

The evening isn't complete without a prom portrait. (E. Curschellas and G. Bryant)

While enjoying the veranda, Leah (Nelson) and Debbie (Meyer) keep an eye on Aida (Meza), who's keeping her eye on her date!

Beautiful moments become beautiful memories. (Greg Miller and Tammy Roberts)

R. Williams and D. Dious step into the ballroom.

S. Ivie and J. Boyett get a photography tip.

Mrs. Rom signals the arrival of the guests with candlelight.

Following the tradition of years past, many couples had enjoyed a romantic dinner in Tampa or Lakeland. Now it was time to dance, chat with friends, and visit the Bryn-Alan photographers for a memory package.

At 10 p.m. the prom court was introduced, declaring Ricky Smalley and Karen Williams Prom King and Queen. The crowd was jubilant!

As the evening drew to a close, many couples exchanged gowns and tuxedos for jeans or bathing suits and took their celebration to someone's home for breakfast or headed for the sunrise on the beach.

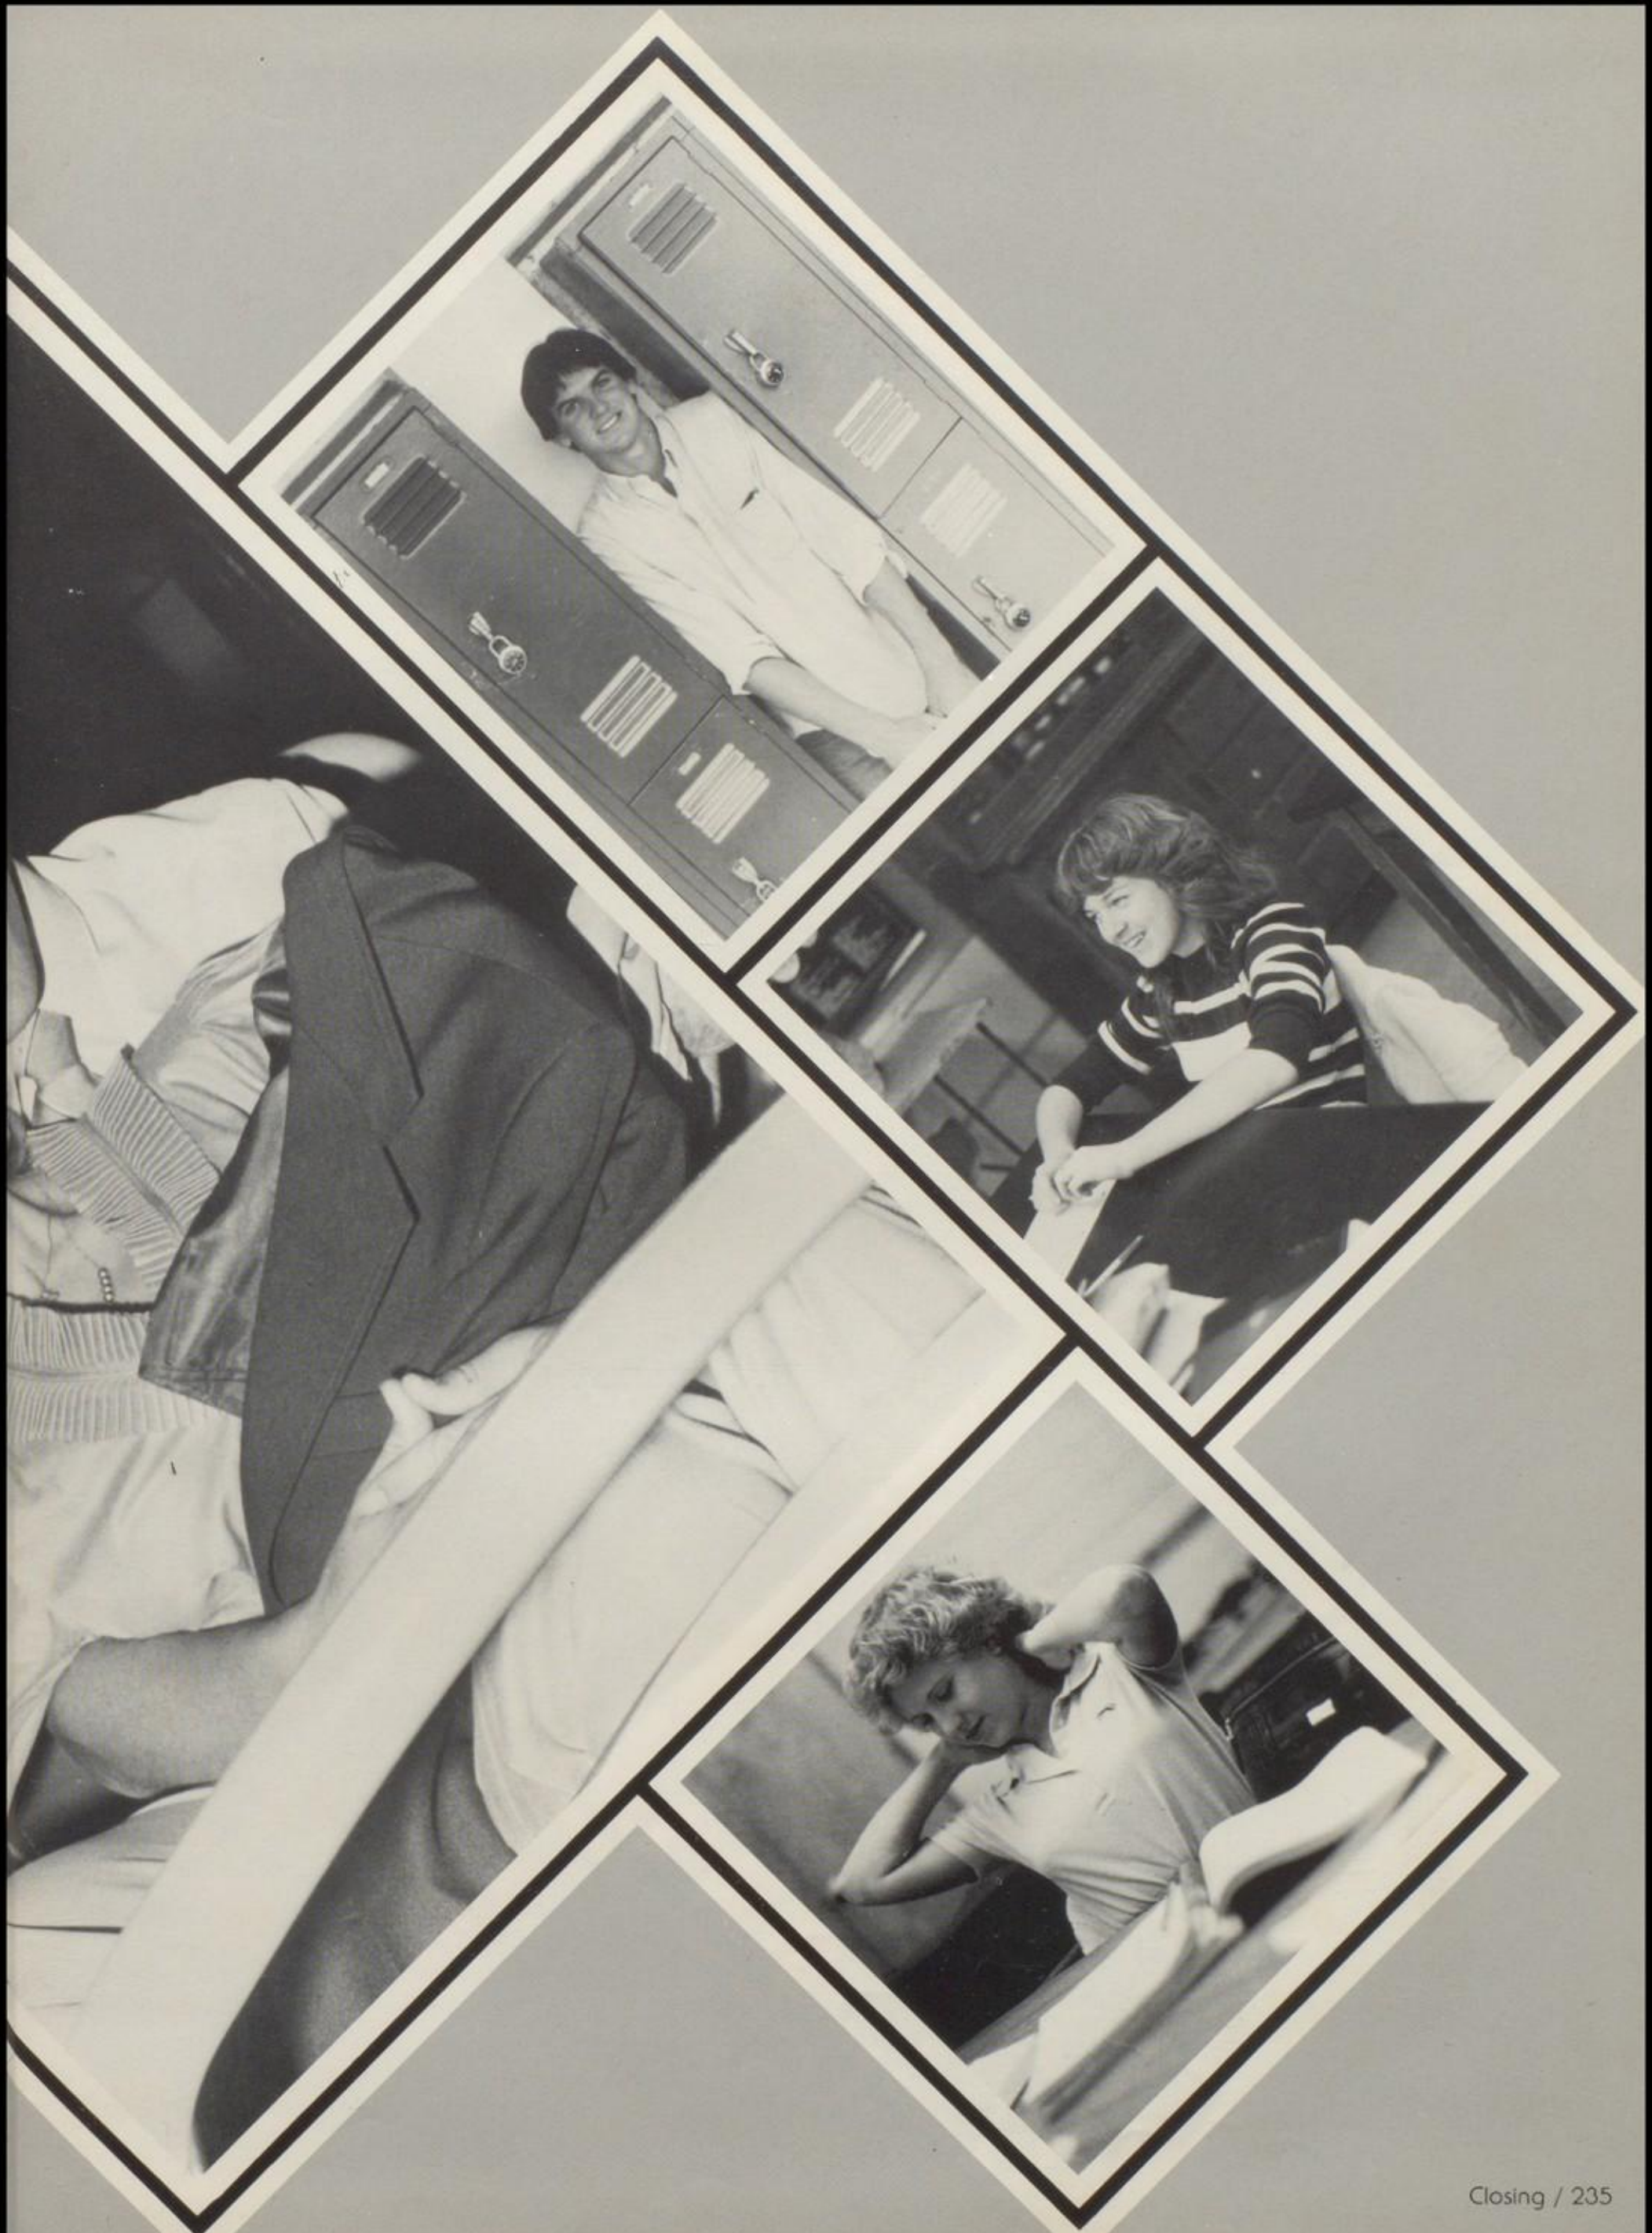
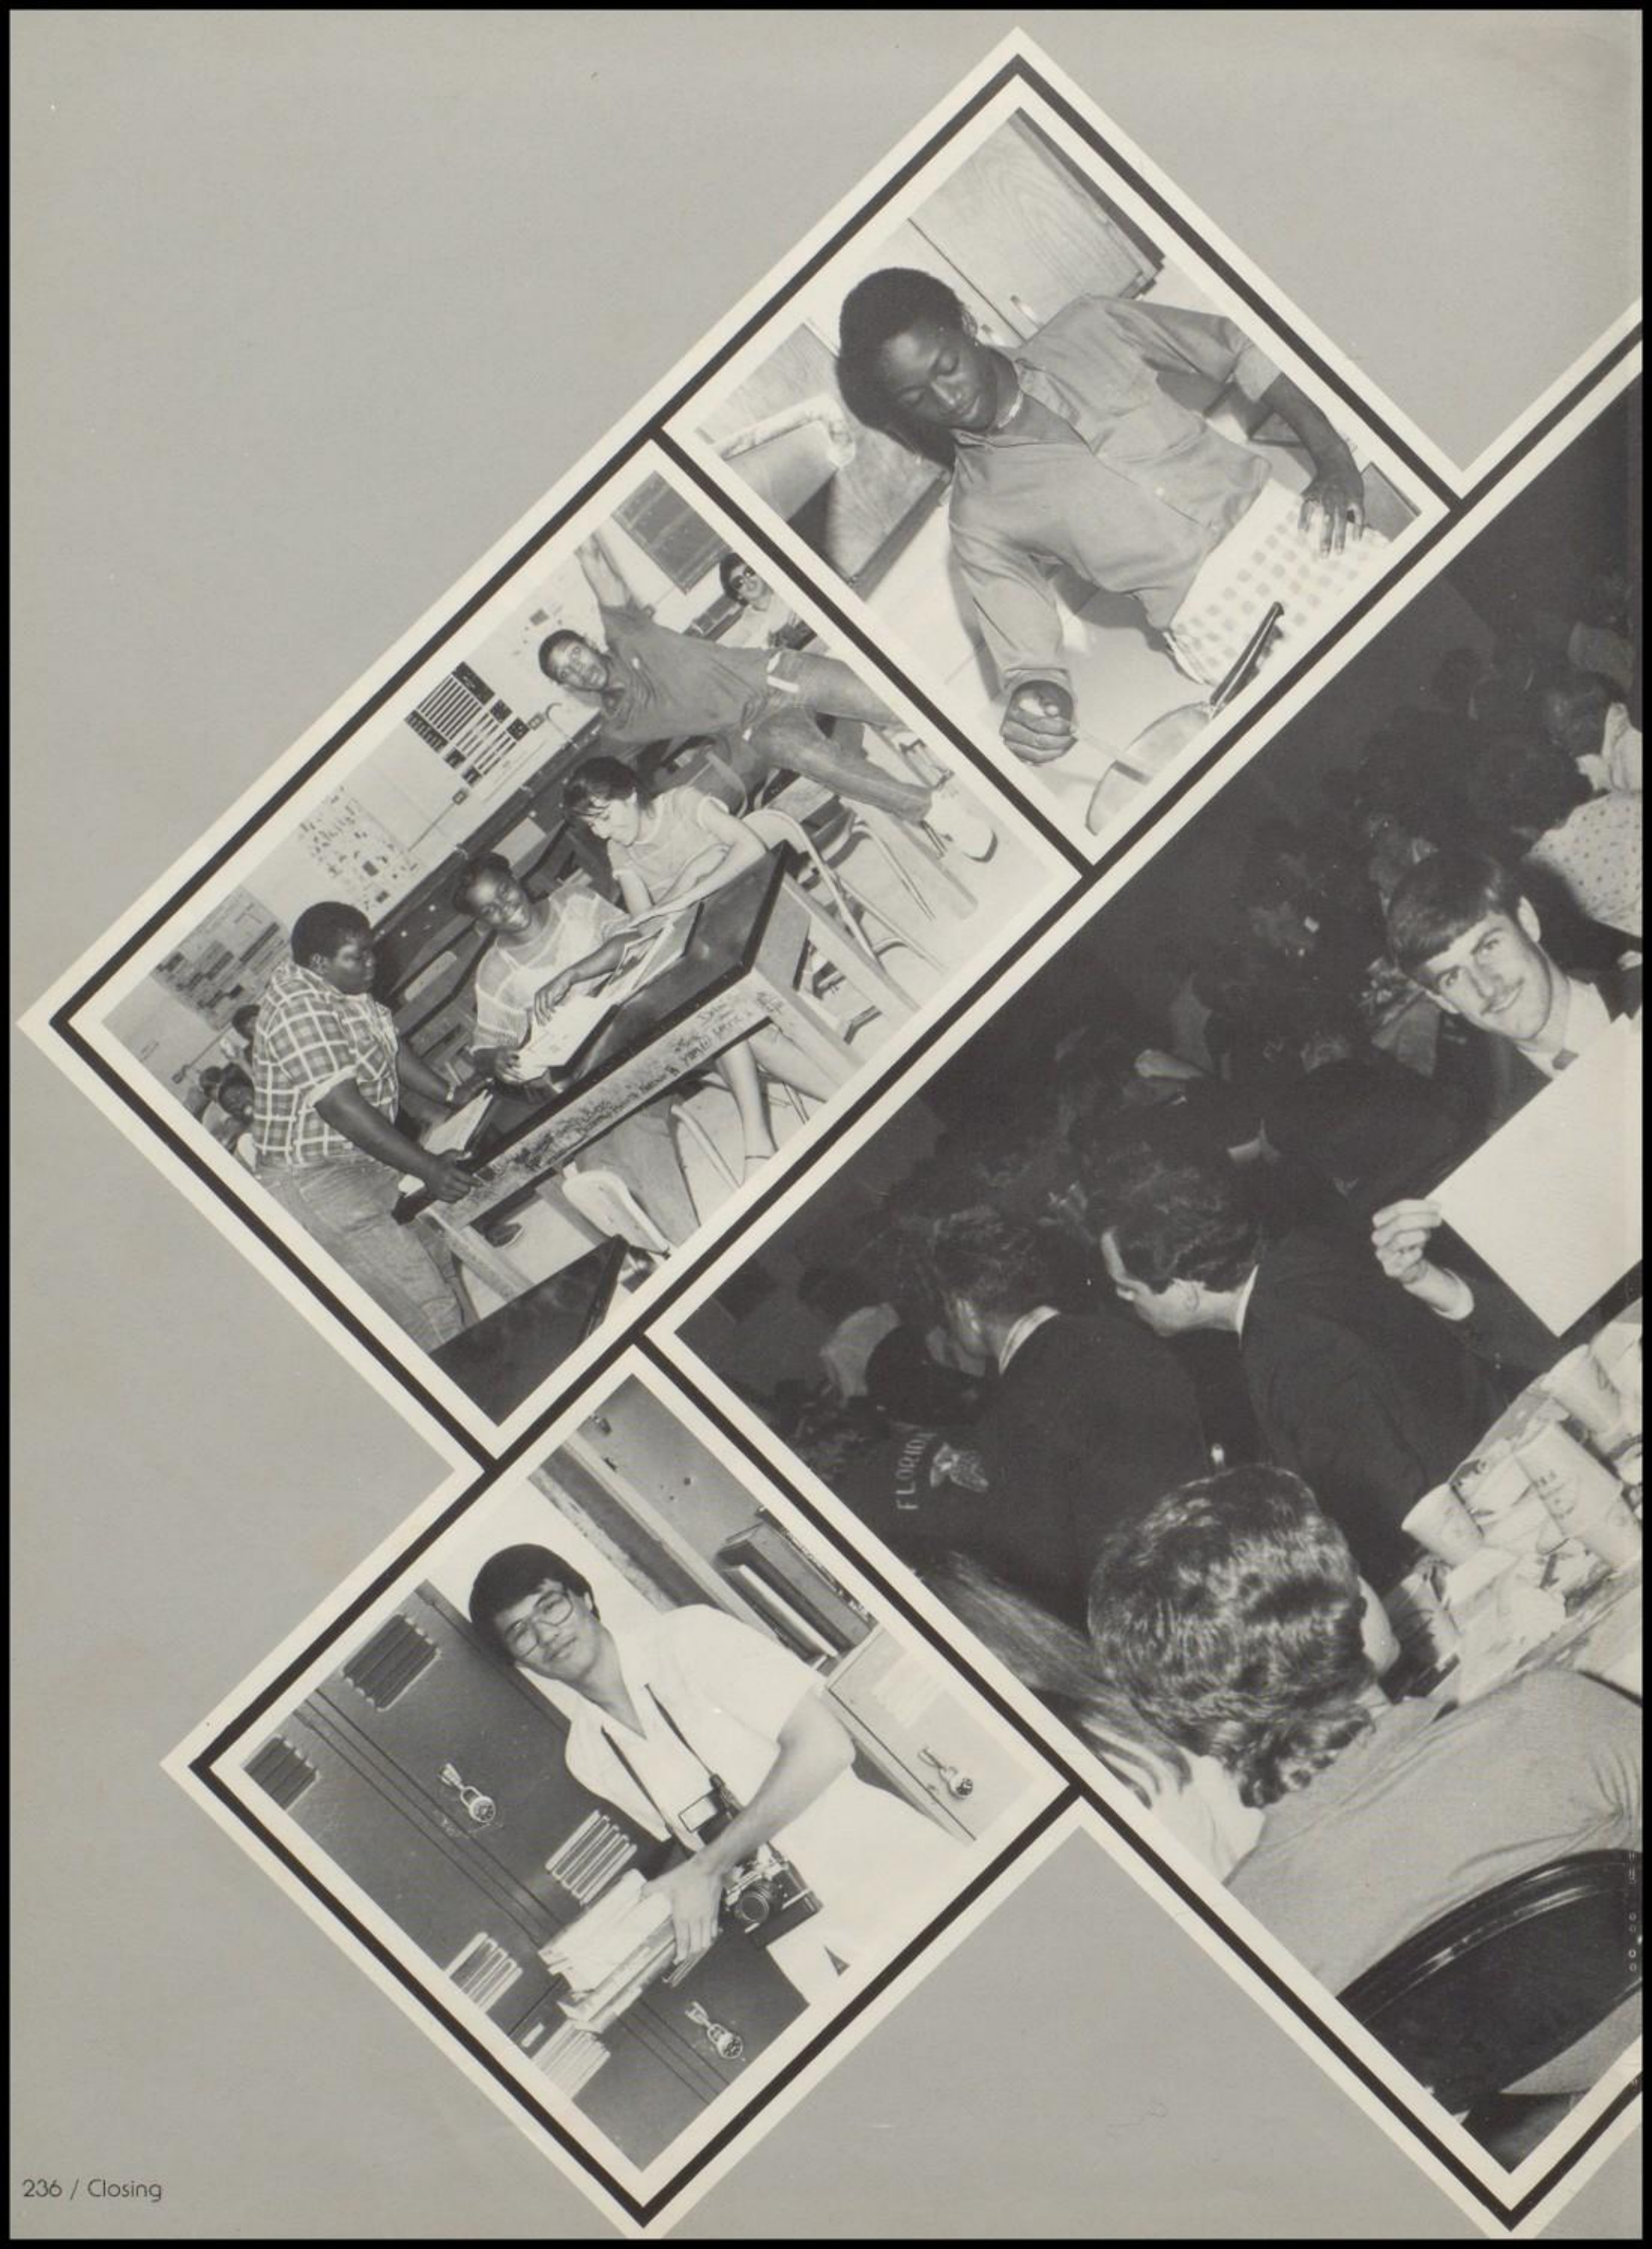
The party's over; the course is completed; the curtain has fallen on the final act of PCHS 1983. We've joyfully moved from that dreaded "first day" to the painful parting of graduation.

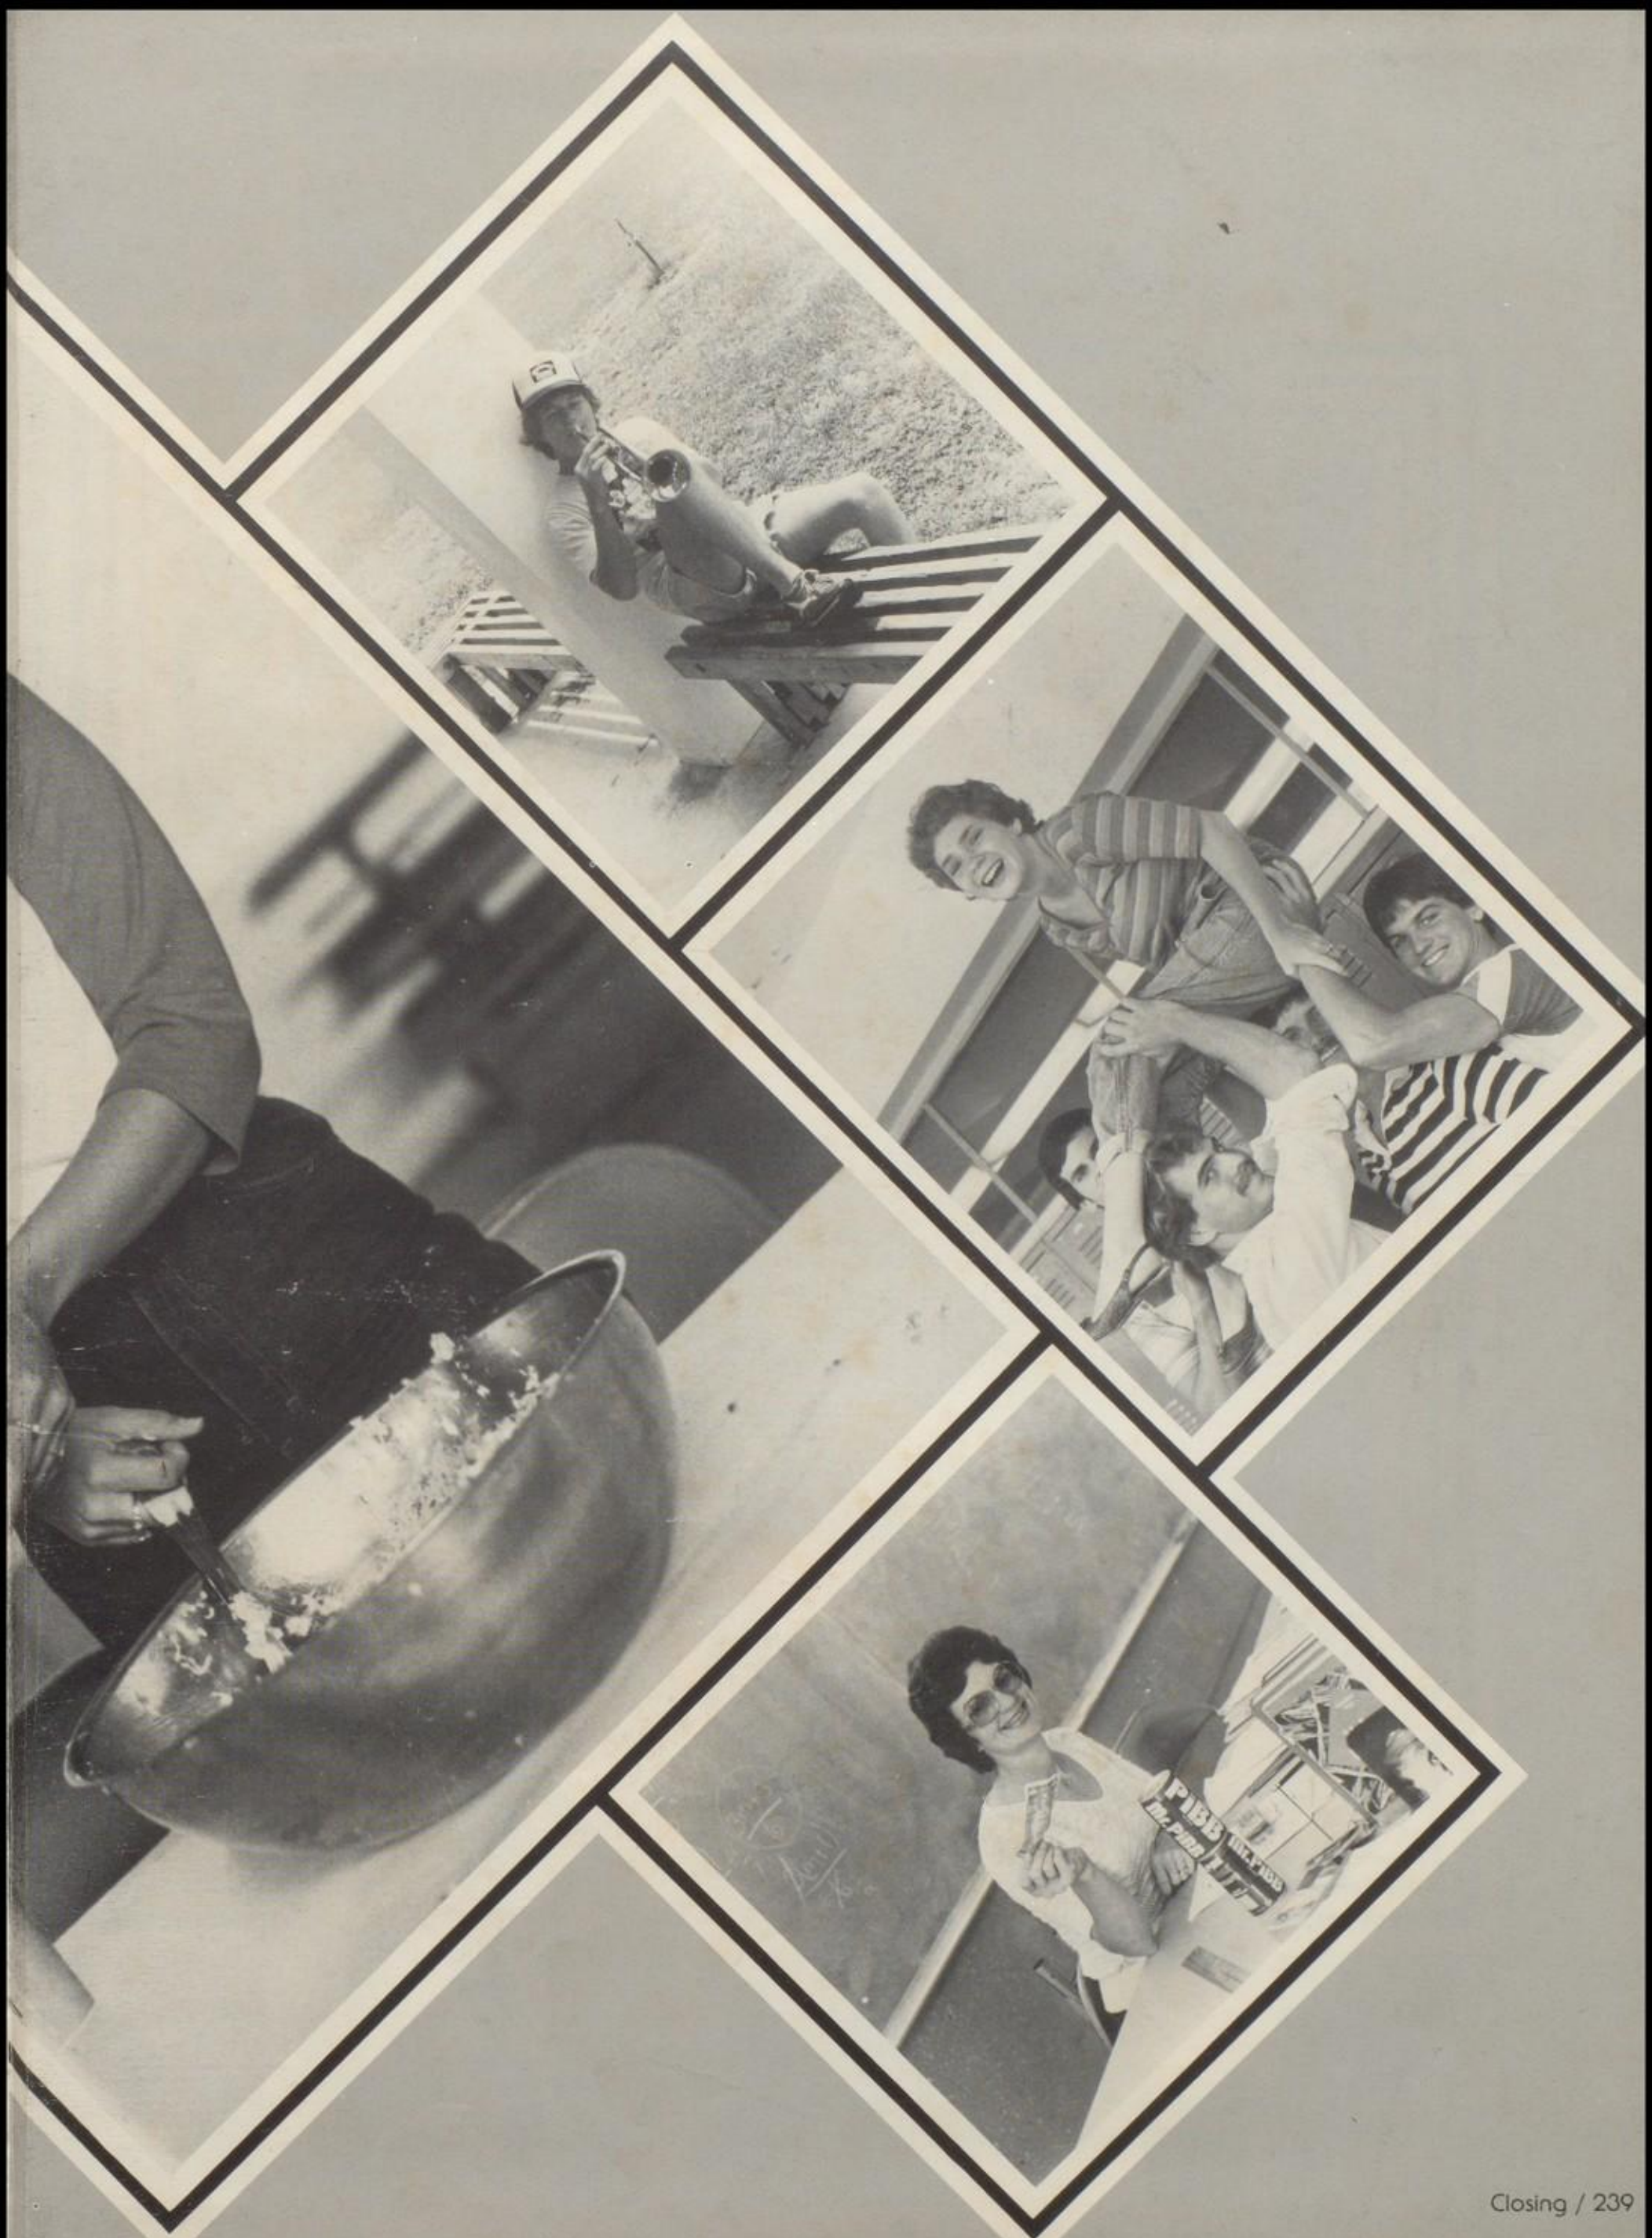
We've celebrated friendship, achievements, and special times with the ones we love. There will never be another year such as this. For most of us, it was "the best" and will always evoke memories that will be impossible to forget.

What will occur in our future years is vague and unfamiliar. Yet, this year's celebration is already ours and will always be there for us to recapture in our minds.





INTERACT
82-83



PIBB
Mr. PIBB

Dear Friends,

The year is drawing to a close, and with it comes the final pages of the "83" Pirate. Throughout this year my staff and I have tried to portray in these pages our Celebration of Life — not only those celebrations which we encountered in school, but the celebrations we enjoyed when the final bell had rung. I hope this yearbook captures all the aspects of the year that have made it a special and unique celebration for you.

This will always be an unforgettable year in my life. There have been many problems, but also an abundance of laughter and good times. I have learned a lot about myself — how to deal with responsibilities and how to work under pressure. Many people came together to create this book of celebrations, and I would like to express my thanks and my love for them: to "Mom" Jones for her love, support, and dedication to the present and past Pirates; to my family — Dad, Mom ("Mom" Jr.), and Patrick, who have shared my joys and my problems, always understanding and often helping to solve the impossible; to Dwight for his support, love, and ability to cheer me up when everything was going wrong; to Mr. Johnson for his ideas and being there when I needed to talk. A special thanks also goes to my friends and other teachers for understanding my situation and supporting my decisions. Nothing could have been accomplished without these fantastic people, and I will always remember them with love and appreciation.

Your loving editor,

Barbara Cain
